OUR FOREFATHERS: THE KNOTSMAN FAMILY

Various members of the Knostman family have been prominent business men through the years since their arrival in Kansas in 1867. They and their wives have contributed much to the growth of the community where they resided, both in Manhattan and near by towns.

1. William Knostman, son of _____ and _____ was born in 1830 in Fena, Germany, a small town near Hanover, and died in 1919 with burial in Sunset Cemetery, Manhattan, Kansas. He married first in 1851 Lizzie Grautman who died before 1857, married second in 1859 Caroline (Carrie) Surman who was born in 1840 in Ironton, Ohio and died in 1909 with burial in Sunset Cemetery.

The Emperor, Frederick William III of Germany, conscripted boys into the army. William Knostman's parents were disturbed at having their sons taken from home at so early an age. In 1836 the family migrated to the United States and bought a farm in Indiana. There were four sons and one daughter in this family. The father died about 1844 when William, the youngest child, was fourteen. The daughter was married and remained on the home farm while the boys went to Cincinnati to seek work. William learned the retail clothing business. After the death of his first wife, William went to Catlettsburg, Kentucky in 1857 where he managed a clothing store for his brother-in-law and was appointed postmaster by President Lincoln.

Mr. Knostman's sympathies were with the North during the war between the states. In 1867 he brought his family to Kansas, residing first in Ottawa. When he learned that a Methodist College had been started in Manhattan, he settled his family there in May 1867. He opened a clothing store where for 51 consecutive years the Knostman firm carried on an active and extensive business. THE 1970 ANNUAL DINNER MEETING OF THE RILEY COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

Dr. John I. Coddington of Bordentown, New Jersey, nationally known genealogist, was the guest lecturer for the Annual Dinner Meeting attended by some one hundred Manhattan area persons. Dr. Coddington is a regular lecturer for the Institute for Genealogical Research at the American University, Washington, D. C., and he was a lecturer at the World Conference on Records at Salt Lake City the past summer.

The dinner meeting was expanded to include a work shop on records in New Jersey and New York in the afternoon besides a lecture in the evening on Records in New England. He urged the use of maps and a study of history of the area where you are working. This brings research alive by looking at the total picture of each problem.

Dr. Coddington became acquainted through correspondence with the late Simeon Fox, Manhattan's first genealogist of note, and planned to stay two days in order to look through Mr. Fox's Connecticut material. He copied much material and left a sizable check for xerox copies of other material found in Mrs. Woldt's library.

He was most generous with suggestions and help on specific problems of the group and of individuals. He is not only a generous, expert genealogist but is also an interesting individual. His two day stay grew to five. He visited the Eisenhower Center in Abilene, Kansas, the Kansas State Historical Society Library in Topeka and the Riley County Court House. His inspiration is causing the members of our Society to copy old records which are stored in boxes in the attic of the court house. He reported especially enjoying the regular work sessions on Wednesday evening and Thursday afternoon in Mrs. Woldt's Genealogical Library. Each member feels that Dr. Coddington's visit was a high light of their genealogical effort.

OUR FOREFATHERS: THE KIMBLE FAMILY

The Kimble family in Riley County, Kansas has proof of their ancestry back to John Kimble who died in Chester County, Pennsylvania. According to family tradition the family came from England and lived in Burlington or Mount Holly, New Jersey before living in Pennsylvania. The Encyclopedia of Pennsylvania Biography by Frederic A. Godcharles, Vol XXIII, page 66 states that the Kimble family line is of ancient English origin. The name is spelled variously, Kimball, Kimbel as well as Kimble from the locality from which they came. They are said to be 'of Kimble'. Great and Little Kimble are parishes in County Bucks, near Wendover, England, not to be confused with Kemball or Kembel which is a parish near Cirencester, County Wilts.

In an effort to learn the name of the emigrant ancestor, research was undertaken on individuals who spelled their name Kimball. Quoting the Encyclopedia of American Biography by Editor-in-Chief Winifred Scott Downs, Vol VI, page 256: "Kimball, the surname, was first used by persons who resided in or near parishes of Great and Little Kimble, in county Bucks, near Wendover, England". This leads the researcher to presume that persons spelling their name Kimball have the same place of origin as those who spell their name Kimble. The name was recorded very early: Richard de Kinebelle, county Bucks in 1273; Nicholas Kymbell, county Norfolk in the time of Henry IV; John de Kinebelle, county Oxford in 1273.

Even though there is a gap in the dates of the records so that our Riley County family cannot prove definitely that they are descended from the same ancestors as the Kimballs, the following data is given as probable leads for further study:

Richard Kimball was the founder of the family in America. According to the above mentioned encyclopedia and 'The Joseph Kimball Family' by John Kimball (1885), Richard came to New England on the ship 'Elizabeth' with his family in April 1634. On the ship were: Richard, aged 39, his wife Ursula and Martha Scott aged 60; Henery Kemball, aged 44, with Susan his wife aged 34; and Thomas Skott aged 40, brother of Ursula, and his wife Elizabeth aged 40. They landed in Boston, and settled in Watertown, Massachusetts. Richard was a freeman in 1635; a skilled mechanic and wheelwright. His will was written 5 March 1675 and proved 28 September 1675. He married 1st Ursula Scott of Rattlesden, county Suffolk, England, the daughter of Henry Scott. Richard married 2nd in 1661, Mrs. Margaret Dow, widow of Henry Dow of Hampton, New Hampshire. OUR FOREFATHERS: THE SEATON FAMILY

For three generations the Seaton family has been well known in the Kansas State University and in the business life of Manhattan, Kansas. The following story of the early family came largely from 'The Seaton Family' by Oren Andrew Seaton (1906). Other records used were: 'History of Kansas State Agricultural College' by J. T. Willard (1940); Sunset Cemetery, Manhattan, Kansas and the personal knowledge of Mrs. R. A. Seaton and Mrs. E. L. Holton, both of Manhattan.

The earliest recorded ancestors of the Seaton family were Normans. The family lived in a place called 'Say' in Normandy. One member of the family went to Scotland where he built a 'toun' which was called Ssa-toun or Say-toun. His posterity took the name of Seatoun, variously spelled Seton, Seyton and Seaton.

In 1301 Christopher Seton married Lady Christian Bruce, a sister of Sir Robert Bruce, afterward king of Scotland. King Robert Bruce knighted Sir Christopher Seton for his bravery in fighting for the independence of Scotland. The story of the family in Scotland may be found in 'An Old Family, the Setons of Scotland and America' by Monsignor Robert Seton (1899).

1. John Seaton is the earliest known member of the family in America. He is doubtless the sixth child of Sir David Seton of Parbroath who went from London to Virginia 7 August 1635. In the 'Virginia Historical Magazine', Vol VI, page 406 under the title of 'Virginia Land Patents' mention is made of 1200 acres of land on the north side of the James River, patented 12 July 1637. Among the names listed is that of John Seaton.

In 'Genesis of the United States' by Alexander Brown, is an extract from the record of the Stationers Company of the City of London, dated 1609, 7th mo., which shows that a Mr. Seton was a member of the 'Stationers' and was levied a sum to be used in the company's adventure in the voyage to Virginia.

2. Henry Seton, son of the Honorable John Seton of Carleton or Gaermiltoun, Scotland or of John Seton, son of David Seton of Parbroath, with others of the family were devoted adherents of the Stuarts of Scotland, for whose throne they had unflinchingly fought. Finally convinced of the futility of any further resistance to the authority of William III, Henry Seton and a number of his co-workers sought refuge in the wilds of America, locating in 1690 in Gloucester County in the colony of Virginia. Later the Seatons resided on an estate in King William County, which for several generations continued to be the home of his descendants. Henry Seton married Elizabeth _____ sometime after 1709. After Henry's death Elizabeth married Augustine Moore. Only child of Henry and Elizabeth Seaton:

3. i George Seaton, born 1711

3. George Seaton, son of Henry and Elizabeth Seaton, was born on the family estate in King William County, Virginia, 11 December 1711 and died in 1750. In 1734 he married Elizabeth Hill, the daughter of Leonard Hill, gentleman of King William County. Children of George and Elizabeth (Hill) Seaton were: (The names are from an old family Bible).
