RESOLUTION HONORS PRESIDENT

WHEREAS, Mildred Loeffler has faithfully served as President of the Riley County Genealogical Society for the past three years during which time there has been a prodigious growth in the Society's library and renovation of the library was completed in her tenure due in no small part to her leadership and active participation;

BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Directors of the Riley County Genealogical Society formally express its appreciation to Mildred Loeffler for a job well done.

Signed: Annie Cunningham, President
Attest: Joe Ann Moore, Recording Sec.

Resolution passed by the Board of Directors on December 2, 1981. Resolution amended on January 25, 1982 to include in the last paragraph after the word "Directors" - 'and the membership'.

PROGRAMS INCLUDE PANEL, DISTRICT COURT CLERK

In addition to the election of officers at the Nov. 30, 1981 regular meeting of RCGS at the public library, a panel answered questions relative to genealogy in general and RCGS in particular. Participants included Pat Hook, Joe Ann Moore, Elaine Olney and Peggy Ward.

Speaker at the Jan. 25, 1982 meeting was Al Singleton, Clerk of the District Court of Riley County. Since the 1977 unification all probate court and county court records are housed in that office. Most of the records, excluding juvenile and adoption records, are open to the public.

Naturalizations and bankruptcies are now handled by Federal Court, birth certificates by the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

KANSAS KIN IN ITS TWENTIETH YEAR

1982 marks the twentieth year of publication of Kansas Kin and an article index covering these years is planned for the November issue. If you have ideas about further inclusions in a special issue, please contact the editor.

CAVENEE PREPARING MANHATTAN STREET MAP

RCGS member Connie Cavenee is preparing a Manhattan street names' map giving the origin of the names and/or sub-divisions. Anyone with knowledge of any early-day (or later) street names is urged to contact Cavenee @ 539-4425. When completed the map will be published by the Society.

The President presents

It is with a great deal of enthusiasm that we begin the new year. Thanks to the time, effort and money contributed by our members and friends, the Platt House has been restored and our library is located in a beautiful and comfortable place in which to work on our family histories. But we can't rest. Our task now is to maintain the Platt House, complete work on the grounds, continue to add to our fine collection of genealogical materials and aid members in their search for family history. If you would like to help or become involved in any way, please let it be known.

The first "working" workshop planned by genealogists, Peggy Ward and Golda Sitz was well attended in spite of bad weather. Men and women seemed to have an interesting and fun time sharing information and working together. Classes for beginners are being planned.

Vice President, Robert Littrell, is planning some good programs for our monthly membership meetings.

Your Board of Directors decided to postpone our Spring Workshop until fall and encourage you to take part in other excellent workshops being planned in our area such as the Topeka Genealogical Workshop in April and Kansas Council of Genealogical Societies Meeting to be held in Salina in June.

One way we share with members who live away is through Kansas Kin. Editor Evelyn Brown and her co-editors pack every issue full of interesting and pertinent information. We urge you to watch for notices of meetings, places and times and also library hours, especially at holiday times.

Kansas Kin will be 20 years old this year. Some special plans are being made to commemorate this.

We want to express appreciation to Mildred Loeffler for her able leadership the past three years. You will be interested to know that Mildred will still be spending much time and effort in behalf of our Society. As Past President she will serve on the Board of Directors, she serves as a librarian and she is busy cataloging our collection and will be placing cards in the beautiful cabinet she has given to our library. We're glad Mildred will continue to work with us and share her know-how. Many thanks to you, Mildred.

We are a group of people organized to aid each other in the search for our ancestors. Come and join in the fun and excitement.

STATE, REGIONAL NEWS

WORLD WAR I KANSAS RECORDS AVAILABLE AT KSHS

According to a front page article in the Nov. 11, 1981 issue of the Topeka Capital-Journal, the World War I Kansas Soldiers Collection is gaining new life. Pat Michaelis, curator of manuscripts at the Kansas State Historical Society, and her staff are refiling more than 3000 envelopes from brown, wood pulp envelopes to rag content paper folders which help minimize detoriation.

The collection was begun in 1918 by members of the Historical Society, who asked that families of veterans send letters, photographs, biographies and war information to their office in Topeka. The project continued through 1920 and information on more than 3000 soldiers was collected. Files that include more than six correspondences are being carded for the department's card catalog.

The collection contains a Gold Star division with biographies of those injured or killed during the war. Those from Kansas served in the 35th and 89th divisions of the Army.

HELP SOUGHT FOR KANSAS CARPENTERS' HISTORY

Carl Graves, a professional historian with history degrees from KU and Harvard University, is director of a project to record the 100 years of the carpenters' union and the entire carpentry trade in Kansas.

The project is funded mainly by the Kansas Committee for the Humanities and will include a 50-page book, newspaper articles on the topic and public meetings in ten Kansas communities in the spring of 1982. Manhattan is one of the locations.

Graves is recruiting speakers from the ranks of contractors, carpenters, local historians and genealogists, etc. He seeks the help of any person who is/was a carpenter or who had relatives in the craft. He is interested in photographing old photos of carpenters and building sites, structures that carpenters built, tools they used, etc.

Contact Graves @ 106 Pinecone Drive, Lawrence KS 66044. Phone: 913-842-6192.

SPENCER LIBRARY ACQUISITIONS

The September 1981 issue of Kansas Collection newsletter includes several acquisitions at the Spencer Research Library in Lawrence KS that may be of interest to our readers.

A recently cataloged manuscript collection is the Catherine Campbell Papers. "She was a native of Wellsville KS (1909-1951) and held many positions in DAR. She was also the first woman to serve as a delegate to the Republican National Convention (1928). The collection contains reports and speeches relating to the DAR, and also copies of Campbell's own genealogical research."

The Library has also acquired Indian Pioneer Papers, "a microfiche set containing typescripts of interviews conducted during the 1930s with both Native Americans and early settlers of the Oklahoma region. The project was conducted by Grant Foreman under the auspices of the W.P.A."

If your ancestor was not included in his father's will, ask the county clerk if he is listed in "Deed of Gift" book. Many times children were given land as a wedding gift and thus received their inheritance before the parents' death.

LETTERS OF INTEREST

From Portia Albert, Head Librarian, Kansas State Historical Society. 12 Jan 1982

"Please be advised that we recently ordered the (microfilm) reels needed to complete our 1840 census holdings. This will complete our holdings for the census years 1790-1850. It takes about six weeks for delivery."

From James W. Moore, Assistant Archivist for the National Archives. 30 November 1981

"Several months ago we notified you of the effects of budget and staff reductions on the interlibrary loan of National Archives microfilm from the Fort Worth Federal Archives and Records Center. Since then, through management initiatives, we increased the level of service, circulating 35,000 rolls of film a month. It is now clear, however, that in order to meet new budget goals, we will have to make additional personnel reductions. The equivalent of 181 full-time positions in the National Archives and Records Service must be eliminated by February 1982.

"We regret that the interlibrary loan of National Archives microfilm from Fort Worth must be discontinued. New requests received as of December 10, 1981, or after will not be processed. All requests on hand as of this date will be returned.

"We are exploring ways that this service might be resumed on a fee basis by a private sector firm. We have maintained records of all libraries that have borrowed film from Fort Worth and will announce future developments.

"We appreciate your patience and cooperation as we have worked together to provide the public with this very popular service. More than 1 1/2 million rolls of film have been loaned since 1971, when the service began. We ask your further cooperation in the coming weeks in seeing that all microfilm is returned to Fort Worth. In the meantime, we urge all those who can do so to use the microfilm in the reading rooms at the National Archives Building and in the 11 Federal Archives and Records Centers around the country, or to purchase the film at a price of $15.00 per roll from the Publications Sales Branch (NEPS), NARS, Washington DC 20408."

Editor's Note: This notification was met with some consternation and disbelief. It seemed impossible that NARC would pass off an opportunity to make a profit by charging a fee for the rental of microfilm.

Be that as it may, genealogists are not ones to give up. We have learned that when one avenue of research leads to a dead end, we must try other ways to search and prove.

We offer a challenge to all genealogical societies to purchase the microfilm of their immediate area, to have their members record, index, and publish each census, and then to share their findings with those who are searching for their ancestors in that area.

Think what it would mean if all one had to spend was the price of an SASE to receive a census listing from another society? There are pitfalls, true, but does anyone have a better idea? We must act before a decision is made to no longer offer microfilm for purchase or worse yet, to close the Regional Centers.

The nearest Regional Center to Manhattan is at 2306 Bannister Road in Kansas City MO. Take the turnpike to 635 South (Highway 69), go south to 95th street, then east (left). 95th street becomes Bannister Road.

The Federal Records Center is the last entrance in a large group of red brick buildings. Hours are 8:00 to 4:00 weekdays. To be assured that a microfilm reader is available, call 816-926-7271 the day before and reserve a reader. A copy of a page is 85¢ and if a family listing takes 2 pages, the second copy is only 50¢.

If one knows the county, township and page number of a census listing and wishes a copy of same, it can be ordered from the National Archives in Washington DC at the same price as previously quoted. The Regional Centers do not mail copies.

Besides the microfilm census, the Regional Center also has U.S. District Court Records (Naturalizations), some land office records and a large amount of microfilm on North American Indian tribes, especially Plains Indians.

Also be advised that Farrell Library on the KSU campus in Manhattan has all the Kansas 1900 census on microfilm.

The RCGS Library has about 50 rolls of microfilm including all of the Riley County KS censuses from 1860 through 1915, plus many other area county censuses. Following is a listing of those Kansas county censuses:

1860 - Pottawatomie, Wabaunsee, Shawnee, Jackson, Washington, Woodson, Greenwood, Godfrey, Wilson & Wyandotte

1865 - Nemaha, Neosho, Osage, Ottawa, Pottawatomie, Saline, Shawnee, Wabaunsee, Woodson & Wyandotte

1870 - Osborne, Ottawa, Pawnee, Pottawatomie, Republic, Rice & Russell

1875 - Reno, Republic, Rice, Rush & Russell

1880 - Cherokee (pt), Cheyenne, Clark, Clay, Cloud (pt), Cowley (pt), Crawford, Davis (Geary), Decatur, Dickinson, Doniphan, Marion, Marshall, Mead, Miami, Mitchell, Montgomery, Morris, Nemaha, Neosho (pt), Phillips (pt), Pottawatomie, Pratt, Rawlins, Reno, Republic, Rice, Rooks, Rush, Russell, Saline (pt), Shawnee (pt), Sheridan, Sherman, Smith, Stafford, Stanton, Stevens, Sumner, Thomas, Trego, Wabaunsee, Wallace, Washington, Wichita, Wilson & Woodson (pt)

1900 - Cherokee (pt), Cheyenne, Clark, Clay, Crawford (pt), Decatur, Geary including Ft. Riley, Gove, Graham, Grant, Gray, Greeley, Greenwood (pt), Marshall, Pawnee (pt), Phillips, Pottawatomie, Pratt (pt), Republic, Rice, Rooks, Rush, Russell, Saline, Scott, Sumner (pt), Thomas, Trego, Wabaunsee, Wallace, Washington, Wichita, Wilson & Woodson

Also 1870 Shelby Co, Illinois

A list of census films in the Kansas State Historical Library @ 10th & Jackson in Topeka is on the library table in the bay window of the Platt House Library.

From RCGS member Hilma Bennett of Rockford, Illinois

"Through the efforts of this Society I have found my paternal grandfather's family. Please put a thank you in Kansas Kin."

CIVIL WAR ACCOUNT OF JAMES H. RAY

Annie Cunningham submitted the following account written by her grandfather James Hanna Ray. J. H. Ray was born 27 Aug 1843 in Tuscarawas Co OH and died 18 Feb 1933 in Hartford, Lyon Co KS. He married (1) 26 Dec 1865 New Philadelphia, Tuscarawas Co OH, Ellen Riker b 6 Aug 1845 New Philadelphia OH, d 28 Nov 1887 Elmendaro Twp, Lyon Co KS (2) Emma Robb of Tuscarawas Co OH. Emma was a sister of Fannie L. Robb who married William Harvey Ray 8 Aug 1867. James Hanna and William Harvey were brothers who fought together in the 52nd Reg., Co D. William Harvey Ray was made a 2nd Lt. on 9 Dec 1864, and 1st Lt. 9 Apr 1864.

Reid, Whitelaw: Ohio in the War published by Moore, Wilstach & Baldwin in 1868, page 319 reads: "The Fifty-Second was busily engaged through all the movement up to Atlanta, and maintained throughout its fine reputation for discipline, courage, and endurance.

"From Atlanta the Fifty-Second moved with the rest of Sherman's army to Savannah, and thence, with small loss, through Georgia and Carolinas northward.

"Then came the march to Washington, the review before the President and Cabinet, the muster-out at Washington, June 3, 1865; the railroad ride to Columbus, Ohio; the final payment and dispersion of the men to their homes; and Fifty-Second Ohio ceased to exist as a military organization."

James Hanna Ray and William Harvey were mustered out with the 52nd Ohio.

In the year 1862 on the 14th day of July a meeting was held at Roxford Tuscarawas Co Ohio to get volenteers for the Army. Brother Harvey & myself volenteerd. We were put in a company that Layard Murrow was getting up at New Philadelphia. Morrow was made Captain, Colier first Lt. & Neighbor second Lt. We went to Camp Denison in August. Was mustered into the service August 17th 1862. In a few days we were fully equiped & placed in the 52nd Ohio, Co. D. Dan McCook was made Colonel immediately we were put aboart the cars & sent to Lexington Ky. The next evening just after dark we had orders to march, as there was a fight bresing at Richmond Ky. The next morning just after daylight we arrived at the Richmond River. We stacked our guns, & of course we thought we must wash, so away we went like sheep. (You see we were green soldiers) Now you see the Rebles had whiped our forces at Richmond & had planted a Batterry on the hill on the opposite side of the River from us, & commences droping the shells among us. We soon had our guns & were on our way back to Lexington. On the way back, Harvey gave out, & I took all his load in addition to my own & by haveing him hold on to me I managed to get him into Lexington about 9 oclock that night.

The next day all was commotion. There was between 3 & 4 thousand soldiers there but all green. None of us knew anything about fighting, & the Rebels advancing on Lexington. In the evening about 6 oclock Col. Dan McCook came along the line, & said that all that felt that they couldnt march 400 miles should go to the Hospital. I tried my best to get Harvey to go, but he wouldnt do it. So we started about dark on a retred to Louisville Ky. We marched 4 days & nights & the Rebels harrassing our rear all the way. We had a very hard trip. The limestone dust was bad, & oft times we would march all day with no water to drink except from the ponds, that the farmers had made for there stock in the fields, & it was covered with a green scum. Buell's Army had reached Louisville before us, & the Reble Army under Brag was between there & Perryville.

Our time evry day was taken up in drilling, so we might be prepared for a battle. Many of our boys were sick. We had started with 1000 men in the Regiment, & now we could not muster 500 for drill. Harvey & myself were among the ones for duty. While at Louisville we got to see many of our neigbor boys, that had gone out in the 51st Ohio & 38th. The time came for the Army to move. About the first of October 1862, Buel's Army, commenced an advance on Brag. Nothing of interest occured untill the evening of the 8th. We at that time had company cooks, & they failed to come up that evening. I presume they smelled powder.

Battle of Perryvill Ky

The result was, we had no supper. The next morning, long before daylight we were up, & moved out cautiously & formed a line on a hill, & had the honor (Dan McCook said) of firing the first gun at the battle of Perryville. A little after daylight our line advanced perhaps a half mile, & formed on a high ridge. The line of battle was in the shape of a horse shoe, & we had the out side of the shoe, that is, Buel's Army. The center of the line was in a valey to our left. We were just a little past the bend of the shoe. The Rebles done there best to break the center. There was hard fighting there all day. In the evening about 4 oclock they charged on our part of the line but we punished them so severly that they were glad to let us alone.

The cannonadeing continued long after dark in the center, & from our lofty position we had a grand view of it. It was there in that valey that Jim Welch was wounded from which he died. Now you must know by this time we were tired & very hungry, for we had as yet seen nothing of our company cooks. We lay down on our guns & went to sleep, & while we slept, the company wagon came up, & the cooks made coffee & broiled some pork, & then waked us up to get our rashions.

The next morning the Rebels were gone, & we again started on the march toward Crab Orchard. Just before we got to Danville, Rege Bovard thought he would forage some, & droped out of ranks. We went on through Danville & went into camp. We received orders to march to Nashville Tenn so the next morning we came back through Danville & we found Rege Bovard laying in a fence corner sick. He had got some honey & eaten to much & he was very sick, & had lost all his blankets. I gave him my gum(n?) blankett, & went on. On the 29th of October we went into camp on a hill covered with heavy timber, about two miles from New Market Ky. After stacking arms, Luther Ricketts Abe Conwell & myself concluded we would like a good square meal. So we struck out. About two miles from camp we stoped at a house. They said they could bake us something (You know they never had any thing baked ahead) so we ordered cornbread & milk for supper, & six custard pies to take with us to camp. Now I tell you that corn bread was good.

We eat one custard pie & started for camp with 5, but just before we got into camp we eat the last pie. That night it snowed hard. We kept up big fires & stood around them all night for we had no tents. Next morning we had orders to build ourselves comfirtable quarters. We worked all day & that night we were quite comfirtable, but before daylight we had orders to march.

At Bowling Green we were mustard for pay. About 5 miles from there we were marching along & all at once my legs gave out, & I droped down in the road. They lifted me into the ambulance. I had to be hauled to Edgfield just across the River from Nashvill Tenn. I was not sick, but my legs refused to do duty. Our surgeon told Harvey to get me some onions to eat, that they would do me more good than any thing else. We had orders to move to Mills Creek, 7 miles south of Nashville. A few days after we got a box from home, & in it there was about a Pkt of onions, & they were turned over to me, & in a short time I was all right. Evry few days we were sent out with a Forage train to get feed for the mules & horses, & sometimes we had it quite lively keeping the Reble Cavelry off. Once we got the hind carriage of a wagon & placed a black log on it for a cannon, & planted it in the road. The Rebel Cavelry came up in sight & wheeled around & went back.

Our Brigade consisted of the 85-86-125th Illinois & our Regt. 52nd Ohio. Our Colonel Dan McCook commanding Brigade. Our Brigade was now ordered back to Nashville to do Picket, & patroll duty. Our camp was laid out on the south west of the City not far from fort Negley, near the Granny White Pike.

The Army was now under Rosecrans, he haveing superceeded Buell soon after the Battle of Perryville Ky. On the 30th day of Dec/62 the Battle of Murfreesboro was fought. The left wing of our Regt. was sent out. Our Co (D) belonged to the right wing. We were on Pickett for 2 days. It was a victory for our Army, but many of the boys from our neighborhood lost there lives in sending provisions to the front. They would send along a guard of 25 or 30 men. It was on one of those trips that Obe & Levi Conwell & Elisha Wright were killed in a collision, & Valentine Wright a Brother of Elisha's, brought there bodies home.

About this time we dischared our company cooks, & the Co. was divided up into messes from 2 to 4 in a mess, & when we went on Picket they would send 4 men to a post for the day & night, one stand as look out at a time. At this time our mess consisted of Frank Grace, John Baltzley, Harvey & myself, & we were sent to one post. We had our own coffee pot & frying pan, & own grub. We were not allowed any fire on the Picket line at night. One time it was so cold & we had a big fire all day. About dark it commenced to rain & sleet. At a house not far from our post we found a piece of sheet iron, that had been used for a roof, about 12 ft long & 6 ft wide. So we took that down & set up on edge & curled it around in front of our fire, thinking that would prevent the Rebels from seeing our fire & we could sit behind it & warm our feet. We never thought to look behind us. It was a very dark & cold night, but we thought we were just fixed. When the officer of the day came along the line, take that down & put out that fire. You thought you coul'nd make light enought for the Rebels so you would put up a reflector to shine all over the heavens, & when we looked behind us, we saw what we had done, & down came the sheet iron.

It seems no home (regardless of owner or historical significance) is free from the threat of destruction. The house that appears on the tail of our nickel is a case in point.

The original owner, impoverished before his death, sought permission from the authorities to raffle off his home. Everything in it went for a song, and eventually the old house was abandoned.

In 1862 the house was bequeathed to the American people. Preoccupied with the Civil War, Congress turned it down. By 1879 grain was sometimes milled and stored on the parquet floors of the drawing room; the basement became a cattle barn.

For 20 years, the home declined toward total collapse, even though its designer, builder, and original owner was also the designer and author or our Declaration of Independence.

The old house on the hill, restored at last from ruin and with us still was the home of Thomas Jefferson: Monticello.

RCGS PROJECTS NEED MEMBERS' HELP

Two ongoing projects of RCGS need the help of any members who would like to be involved on a one-time basis or as permanent assistants.

The reading of tombstone inscriptions in the smaller cemeteries of Geary County will resume this spring. All materials are provided and the trips usually take most of the day. If you are a natural-born sleuth, like the outdoors, and can survive on a sack lunch, this project is for you.

For those who prefer the indoors and a more tedious assignment, reading area censuses for future publication might be more appealing. The 1865 Wabaunsee County census is currently being read.

If you are interested in helping with either or both of these projects, sign on the appropriate sheet(s) on the bulletin board in the microfilm room. You will then be contacted.

As many of you know, the Boston Association's steamboat Hartford was grounded as it headed for Manhattan in 1855. Sonie Liebler says, "A look at the Hartford's freight will give you a hint as to why she grounded. She carried 75 to 100 passengers, 10 casks of wine, 40 stoves, 200 dogs of iron, 388 pieces of castings, 10 ice boxes, 153 barrels of whiskey, 38 dozen chairs, 40 kegs of nails, 10 dozen brooms, 20 bureaus, 6 tables, 50 tin safes, 209 packages of merchandise and 10 to 14 frame houses (records vary), as well as the personal belongings of the passengers."

LIBRARY GROUNDS LANDSCAPING PROGRESSES

Since Ray Keen's original plans for landscaping the library grounds were approved about a year ago, he has attained many of the goals envisioned then.

This spring Keen began the Heirloom Orchard with the planting of the following trees: a red sour or pie cherry, a damson plum, Lincoln and Douglas pears (one of each), a Whitney crab, a Jonathan, a persimmon and a choke cherry. A peach tree already existed and the only planned addition is a yellow transparent.

A Tea's weeping mulberry has been planted at the northwest corner of the house and all of the shade trees are in.

The Old Fashioned Rose Garden has begun with 14 named roses and others which the Hylton sisters (Virginia and Mary) started from cuttings. Two more climbers are needed. Eight or ten pioneer roses have been started from cuttings but more of these could be used. These are the kind one might find in old cemeteries. Mrs L M Post provided some from her yard. All the roses were planted by May first for this year. There will be opportunity for buying memorial roses later.

Keen provided Cliff Palmquist with drawings & dimensions for a rose arbor and fence similar to that which existed on the Platt grounds before the turn of the century. Palmquist will be building this for placement later.

Keen states there is a need for another stone post. If anyone can provide one, contact can be made through the library. Also those knowing of pioneer roses in old cemeteries, or the like, should inform him of the whereabouts.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES UPDATE

The continuing saga of the National Archives and interlibrary loan system is noted. There was no advantage to collect "user fees" to support the interlibrary loan system for under current law any income would have gone into general tax revenues rather than directly into the archives budget.

As of Feb 12 the archives had reportedly received 53 inquiries from potential commercial vendors of the interlibrary microfilm loan program. They are preparing forms outlining specifications, etc. after which the project will be advertised and formal applications accepted.

In the meantime one may use the eleven Federal Records Centers or purchase microfilm for $15 a reel. The Federal Records Center in Kansas City will be moving to 1500 E Banister Road due to the expansion of the IRS facilities. The move will not take place for a year or longer.

The 1910 census was opened to the public in Washington, D. C. on April 15 and will be available for purchase shortly. It will be in the regional archives by November 1982.

Census and soundex microfilm may be rented from Darlene Winter, Box 312-A, Holland MI 49423.

Send $5 plus $10 ($15 in all) in check or money order for each reel of microfilm you wish to rent. Enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for your refund.

When ordering the census, indicate the year, state and county of the microfilm you wish to search. When ordering the soundex, indicate the year, state and the surname which you wish to search.

Return the microfilm insured within the month rental period and the $10 deposit will be refunded.

No microfilm will be sent without advance payment. Allow 6 to 8 weeks for delivery.

LIBRARY VOLUNTEERS INCREASE

More members have volunteered to help with projects at the RCGS library. Louise Littrell is helping file periodicals. Katherine Mulanax has become one of the librarians.

Those helping to read early area census for publication are: Lucille Wright, Annie Cunningham, Ruby Williams, Elaine Olney, Pauline Norby, Mary Jean Stewart and Evelyn Brown. They are working on the 1860 Pottawatomie Co. Census and have completed the 1865 censuses for Wabaunsee and Pottawatomie Counties. The latter county was completed only after it was found that the KS State Historical Society had about again as many names as are found on the microfilm. The next project will be the 1870 Davis County census of which the Fort Riley section has already been copied. Anyone wishing to help in this or any project at the library should inform the president or editor.

WORKSHOPS GLEAN NEW MEMBERS

The spring workshops in the Platt House March 8 and April 13 were well attended and resulted in several new memberships. Genealogists Peggy Ward and Golda Sitz were assisted on May 9 by Grace Woldt, who spoke on New England research.

CORRECTION: Thanks to Helen Roberts for drawing to our attention that the steamboat "Hartford: was with the Cincinnati & Kansas Land Company and not the Boston Association as indicated on page 20, column 2 of the February 1982 Kansas Kin.

The Jackson County Mo "Pioneer Wagon", V. II, No. 1, p. 3-4 lists state historical societies and state libraries that loan their collections of newspapers on microfilm.

The "Marin Kin Tracer", Novato, CA, V. V, No. 1 has good articles on censuses - reading them, available ones, etc.

Hearts and Flowers to Ruth Ratcliffe who helped type this issue due to the editor's broken finger.

Index to Family Names in Genealogical Periodicals by Maud Quigley. Western Michigan Genealogical Society. 1981. $4.50

This Index contains more than 7,000 major surnames taken from Bible and census records, newspapers, genealogies, and cemeteries. Some 90 genealogical periodicals from 30 states were used in the research. Each surname, alphabetized, is followed by a Roman numeral code number indicating a periodical, followed by volume and page number. The list of periodicals, their address, and number of years published prefaces the Index.

Maud Quigley spent ten years preparing this work, which should be very helpful to anyone searching for ancestors in the preparation of a family history.

Copies may be ordered from Western Michigan Genealogical Society Attn. Sales, Library Plaza, Grand Rapids, Mi., 49502. The price is $4.50 plus $1.00 for postage and handling.

MEMBERS DEDICATE TIME TO RCGS

One of the reasons for the smooth operation of the RCGS library is the dedicated service of many members. Although some people may be inadvertantly omitted, these are noted:

PAULINE ADOLPH has taken over the job of typing a card for each name on members' pedigree charts and filing these in the surname file. This is the work EARL TEAGARDEN has done for umpteen years and from which he has deservedly retired...MILDRED LOEFFLER is cataloging the library's collection of thousands of volumes...ELAINE OLNEY and KATHERINE MULANAX are going through each family history and pulling out names, places, etc. to be used in the card catalog as subject headings...JOE ANN WOOD MOORE, ANNIE CUNNINGHAM, RUTH FOSTER and HELEN KERSHNER have been the cleaning ladies at the library for the last four months...MILDRED JANSSEN continues to sell the Pottawatomie county Cemeteries maps from her fabric store in St. Marys...GRACE WOLDT has given a 1905 official railroad map of Kansas to the library. It is 30" x 20" and black and white...LOUISE LANNING gave the funds for sheer curtains for the back door at the library and ELAINE OLNEY fitted and installed them...HARVEY LITTRELL and MILDRED LOEFFLER went to Abilene in June and presented to their genealogical society a program similar to RCGS's May meeting...RAY KEEN has faithfully weeded, watered and watched the library grounds this summer...EVELYN BROWN is transcribing the 1870 Davis (Geary) County census for publication by the Society...MARY JEAN STEWART, ROSEMARY FINNEY, ANNIE CUNNINGHAM, PHYLLIS EYESTONE, ELAINE OLNEY and EVELYN Brown read five cemeteries in Geary and Clay counties in June...Add to these names those of the librarians, periodical filers, officers and others whose duties include daily or weekly service and you have what must be the most devoted group of genealogists in Kansas - or the US - or the world.

A history of St. Pauls Episcopal Church in Manhattan is being compiled by Mary Roberts for their 125 anniversary. If you have information which would be of interest, contact Mary at 539-3912.

Salt Lake City Trip Planned for October

An RCGS trip to do research in the LDS library in Salt Lake City is tentatively being planned for the week of October 17, 1982. All those interested should place their names and phone numbers on the sheet on the bulletin board at the Platt House Library or call 537-2205 and ask that your name be added to the list.

As soon as enough people sign to make a trip feasible, a meeting will be called to choose the mode of travel, lodging, etc.

Loeffler Elected to Genealogical Council

At the 8th annual meeting of the Kansas Council of Genealogical Societies on June 12 in Salina, Mildred Loeffler was elected recording secretary. She is immediate past-president of RCGS and the official librarian and cataloger of the Society.

Alan Riedel of the Finney County Genealogical Society, was elected treasurer. The other officers retain their positions for another year.

President Annie Cunningham and Mildred Loeffler were the delegates attending from RCGS.

RCGS Members Present May Program

At the May 24 meeting of RCGS in the Manhattan Public Library, Sherry Butler told of special indexes in the Platt House Library; Mildred Loeffler mentioned specially helpful periodicals; and Harvey Littrell related New England and military records of importance. A slide presentation "Road to Treasure and Tradition" by Mary Spicer Hammel was also shown.

Grace Woldt, a charter member of RCGS, is listed on page 52 of the May/June 1982 National Genealogical Society Newsletter as one of 99 persons in 32 states who have been affiliated with the National Genealogical Society for 25 years or more.

Help Needed on Manhattan Street Names

RCGS member Connie Cavenee has completed her year-long research into the origin of the names of Manhattan, Kansas streets. She concentrated on streets with historical or genealogical interest and eliminated those that were numbers, states, trees, flowers, etc.

She researched over 200 street names and can find no information on the following: Dunbar, McDowell, Plymate, Ratone, Shaffer and Stewart. If you have information concerning the origin of these street names, please contact Cavenee at 539-2245.

A rough copy is at the Platt House Library and should be studied by all who have knowledge of any street namings so that corrections and additions can be made before the copy goes to the printer. The Society will publish a Manhattan Street Names special this fall. Your help in this project is greatly appreciated.

Fall Beginner and Intermediate Workshops Are Planned

Genealogists Golda Sitz and Peggy Ward are planning workshops for beginners and intermediates on the second Tuesdays of each month this fall.

These classes to help one begin or advance in genealogical searchings will be held at the Platt House Library at 7:00 p.m. on Sep. 14, Oct. 12 and Nov 9. Watch the newspaper for further notices on these free workshops and plan to attend.

Loeffler Chooses Book For the Platt House Library

At the end of a term as RCGS president, the retiree is traditionally given the privilege of making a selection for the RCGS library. Mildred Loeffler has chosen Charles Henry Pope's Pioneers Of Massachusetts: A Descriptive List which is a 549 page book published by the Genealogical Publishing Co. in 1981. This acquisition, designated in Mildred's honor, is now on the library shelves.

Correction

The May 1982 issue of Kansas Kin, p. 26, "Marshall County, Kansas Birth Records, 1885-1896" indicated that the RCGS library had a listing with more information than the index. In fact, only those entries from Nov. 19, 1885 through Oct. 22, 1886 (#1-315 except 209-221) were abstracted by Terry Godfrey and are in the library.

Kansas Kin book review editor Mildred Sykes has an article on rural Woodson County, "Early Cars and My Dad", on page 5 of the June 1982 issue of Kanhistique which is published in Ellsworth, Kansas.

FIND OLD RELIC

Sand Scoop Brings Up Old Indian Corn Mill
Wamego Bank Has Part of Grinding Apparatus

The Manhattan Sand company's sand dredge, in the new channel of the Blue river, recently brought up an interesting relic. Some thirty feet below the surface, an ancient stone used by the Indians in grinding corn meal was found, and brought to light in the sand scoop. The stone is unique among such relics, being of red sandstone. The usual grinding stone used by the Indians was a flinty rock.

Charles Paddock believes that he has found the other stone of the set in the window of a Wamego bank. The sets consist of a large, flat stone, hollowed out into the form of a trough, and another stone, shaped like a very elemental and flattened out rolling pin. In the hollowed stone the grind was placed, a little at a time, and then energetically rubbed with the "rolling pin." It is the "rolling pin" stone that is in the possession of the sand compnay, while the Wamego bank has the trough, or metate stone. The two are of the same sort of stone. The trough shaped stone is broken down the center and was unusual in that it is hollowed on both sides.

WILL OF A CENTURY, A TRUE COPY

In the name of God, Amen: I, John Strain of Abbyville County, State of South Carolina, being through the great mercy of Almighty God in the proper exercise of reason, tho weak in body and apparently near the grave do this 25th day of June 1798 make and ordain this my last will and testament as follows:

First--my soul I commit to God who gave it, and my body to the dust in hopes of a glorious resurrection. As to the things which God has given me in this world I distribute them as follows: viz.

To my beloved wife I give the negro girl, Sarah, to be hers during her life time and at her death said negro Sarah is to go to my son John. It is my will that all her posterity, if any she should have, be taught to read the Scriptures and be brought up in a Christian manner and be equally divided among my two sons.

Ease of Conscience and William's Sacramental Meditations, I will to my wife.

My Bible and Marshall's On Sanctification, to John.

A large book collection of sermons and Newton's first volume of letters, to James.

To my niece, Jennie Strain, I leave the spotted cow with a young calf.

The further distribution of my property I leave to the prudence and discretions of my sons.

Lastly, I do hereby appoint as the executor of my last will and testament my dear friend and brother David Strain and James Watts in testimony whereof I have hereon set my hand and affixed my seal the day and year above written. John Strain.

MANHATTAN MERCURY OBITUARIES ON FILE AT RCHS

Since 1963 the staff at the Riley County Historical Society museum has abstracted obituaries from the Manhattan Mercury and placed the deceaseds' names on 3 x 5 cards. These cards are arranged alphabetically in a file and give basic information about the deceased and the issue of the Mercury which contained the obituary.

An article in the June 1982 Orange Co, Calif. Genealogical Society Quarterly, p. 57-60 tells how to make a photo quilt. Patsy Moyer, the author, explains how to put photos on quilts, pillows and t-shirts using iron-on transfers.

HE WAS A STATE BUILDER AND A TRUE KANSAS PIONEER

Adventures of a Kansas Settler Launching the Ship of His Fortunes Onto Unknown Seas

A MANHATTAN VIGNETTE
by Mrs. Bowen

Read Before the Domestic Science Club at their Historic Meeting October 7.

He was an idealist. He was also a deep and constant thinker. The oldest son of a pioneer, his boyhood and youth were spent on a new farm in the Ohio woods where he met and conquered the hardships incident to the situation.

When a boy of seven or eight years the terrible scourges of the early settlers called "milk sickness," resulting from the use of milk, butter, or beef, but never satisfactorily explained by scientists, brought him to the verge of death, and when, after long months he slowly came back to life, he had again as in infancy to learn to walk.

Schools were few and usually taught by ignorant and often immoral men. Although heavy long-continued labor was the boy's lot he loved books and longed for knowledge. As fast as possible he secured books and mastered their contents. It was not until he was more than twenty-five years old that he was free to devote a few months to school. At that time he entered the university of Athens, Ohio, where he improved well his time and fitted himself for teaching in the public schools.

With almost no possessions, except this equipment, and a position as school-master he was married to a good, brave, conscientious Scotch lassie.

During the next twelve years four little girls came to their home. It became a problem, ever present in their minds, to plan for educating their children and placing them in better circumstances than their own had been. They believed if they could go where land was not so high it could be done.

Then came the excitement over the new territory of Kansas, and call for free-state settlers to keep out slavery. These questions came to them: Cannot we go and help to build up a new free state with conditions suitable for a home, church and schools for the children? What of the border war now raging? What of the hostile Indians farther West? Will freedom and civilization win? Dare we take the risk? With none of the optimism of ignorance but realizing the price that must be paid, they accepted the challenge of opportunity.

LAUNCHING INTO THE UNKNOWN

The resolve once made, there was no delay,no looking backward. The residence property with such belongings as were not to be taken to the new home were quickly sold. The proceeds were converted into gold and secreted about their persons. Sad fare-wells were spoken and they took passage at Cincinnati on an Ohio River steamer to St. Louis and from there on another to Kansas City.

Fearful rumors were in the air. Vigilance committees came on board at various points to turn back any who promised resistance to pro-slavery programs. A wise self-control in the matter of public discussion protected our emigrants from unfriendly notice.

Landed at the little town of Kansas City they found themselves in the midst of strife and murder. Their plan had been to locate far enough west to escape the border warfare and near Ft. Riley for protection from Indians. Travel without armed escort was impracticable they could only wait.

Providence did not forget them, however, for the New Haven Beecher Bible and Rifle Co., which had settled at Wabaunsee, came to Kansas City to get a mill for their colony. They were a goodly body of men well armed with Sharp's rifles and Colt's revolvers then the latest word in fire-arms.

Finding our pioneer, and learning the situation, they extended an invitation to him to join their long train of ox teams and accompany them to Wabaunsee.

There was a glad acceptance and speedily a covered wagon and two yokes of oxen were purchased. The trunks, and boxes of household supplies, beds clothing, books, cooking utensils, food (including dried fruits, jams and preserves put up in Ohio), canned goods were then unknown - were all stored away in the wagon.

A bench across the front of the wagon was used as a seat for the parents and the two-year-old baby, while the other three took turns on that and a lofty perch on the boxes under the canvas.

When a few miles out of Kansas City the forests were passed and the caravan entered the open prairie with its broad sweep of miles on miles of luxuriant grasses, studded with the wild flowers of June--some of them old friends and some new--the joy of the immigrants knew no bounds.

The father lifted all to the ground, and they ran through the grass, caught up the flowers and shouted and sang "Oh, the wide prairies, the beautiful prairies."

The heart of the father beat fast at the promise of the new land. He contrasted the forests with which he struggled in his youth with these broad acres of rich soil all ready for plowing and planting, and at a price within his means. The wagon trip was made in a week and ended the long journey of a month.

So was won entrance into the promised land. There remained a long drawn battle with toil, privation, illness, loneliness and often defeat before uncertainty yielded to assurance of final victory.

TRANSLATING DREAMS INTO DEEDS

Temporary shelter was found with a hospitable family from New York. The cabin of one room and a loft, with only the earth for a floor, already sheltered a family of six, but a welcome was extended to an additional six during the few days occupied by the man in selecting a quarter section of land. The land selected was located in what is now known as Zeandale; then in Wabaunsee county, later in Davis or Geary and now in Riley.

Adjoining this claim was one on which stood vacant a cabin of one room and earth floor. It was built of logs round and separated by wide unchinked spaces through which a large cat could enter. It was secured for temporary shelter.

Forks driven into the ground supported a platform on which the beds were placed.

The cooking was done on the ground out-of-doors in an old fashioned oven with lid on which coals were placed and with coals beneath. Such an equipment is hard on the cook but the results were good. And there was no lack of appetite.

The first step was to collect carefully hewn logs for the cabin. The floor was of smooth oak lumber and the roof of real shingles. It was a story and a half high and contained one large room above and below and a lean-to kitchen. When completed, it was pronounced the finest house in the neighborhood. It was occupied as soon as possible but the doors and windows were not finished until Christmas and the chimney still later.

Quilts were hung at the door to keep out the cold which was very severe. The new cook stove brought from Leavenworth by oxen was quite inadequate and the new fireplace brought welcome relief.

Some chairs were also purchased in Leavenworth to supplement the chairs of home-made construction. Boxes served as a table. Bedsteads were made of rough material secured from the woods. It was too late in the season for a crop, but some sod was broken to be ready for the next spring.

A cow, a calf, and some chickens were bought. Food, at high prices, was bought to last until a crop could be grown. The land cost $200.00. Much money had been paid the carpenter and for material. When all these things were done the little stock of gold was sadly reduced.

Then came the long-drawn battle with hardship. To live on the least possible out-lay for food and clothing, to produce on the farm all the necessities of life, and to do without all superfluities!

There were no school advantages for the oldest daughter, who was well advanced even in algebra and Latin when she left Ohio. During the second summer there was one three month's term and the third summer there was another. These children were taught at home.

In the summer of 1859 occured a great event in the family history. Their pastor, the Rev. Harvey Jones, returned to Pennsylvania with his family from Wabaunsee going as far as Kansas City by ox-team. It presented the desired opportunity for the return of the oldest daughter to her relatives in Ohio to continue her interrupted studies.

What this separation entailed on all, of sacrifice what it meant to the girl of plain dress and restricted outlay--can you imagine? It was undertaken and executed by all gladly, joyfully, and without loss of self respect. With the dear friends to whose love she was entrusted she lived and studied in the acamedy, beloved by all and especially admired and respected as representative of a new and honored civilization. When prepared to teach, schools were awaiting her and she entered upon her work.

DIFFICULTIES

The summer of 1860 was one long to be remembered. The corn crop of the previous year was so heavy that there was no market for it. Some used it for fuel and others left it in the fields to be burned in the spring.

Our pioneer, with wise regard for values and for possible future failures, carefully cribbed his surplus.

One fine summer day in 1860, as the farmer gave the final cultivation to his dark green corn, he noticed that already its long graceful blades swept the ox-yoke. He rejoiced in the promised abundance which would insure continued growth and increase of his sleek cattle and fat hogs. These would furnish means for necessities and comforts yet unattained and for educating the children. Perhaps he could, while land was cheap, buy more land, for a little boy had been added to the family and was now two years old.

The sun was very hot. A breeze, which in the morning had been cool and refreshing, was becoming a fierce, hot wind. The corn blades rolled, withered and drooped. The relentless blasts ceased not till their cruel work was done and only dried parched leaves remained, where once had been life and beauty.

When autumn came there was a great demand for corn and but little to meet it. Cattle were a drug on the market and were offered for corn. They were accepted at liberal prices. The supply tided them over the crisis until the East, ever ready, responded generously to the call of need and much suffering was avoided.

It was a matter of self congratulation to our pioneer that not one cent of this bounty ever came to himself or family although their diet and dress compared unfavorably with others.

The Morrill Bill, establishing Agricultural Colleges, was passed in 1862. Far-sighted and patriotic men who had control of the Methodist Institution known as Bluemont College which was located west of Manhattan, secured for this town the location of the state school at this place, by donating the farm and one stone building, and arranged for the opening of school in September 1863.

Hon. I. T. Goodnow and President Joseph Denison visited the prairie cabin, to which the oldest daughter had now returned from Ohio, and employed her as teacher of the preparatory department--th an important part of the institution--since there was little material for a freshman class among the girls and young boys, not in the army. With the brave cheery young teacher came her sister, next in age, to enter as a student; and at the opening of the winter term the two others followed her.

Oh, the loneliness of the home from which the four elder children had gone! Only the two babies left to brighten its life! It was not the distance in miles that counted so much but the time and effort required for traversing it.

How often did the father, in early morning, load his wagon with wood and other household supplies and drive the slow patient oxen seven long weary miles over muddy roads or through stinging cold only to find the river impassible and the journey useless. Or, if the crossing was good, he could reach his destination only in time for a few precious minutes of visiting and a hurried good-bye before he must set out on his return trip which lasted far into the night.

Meantime, the brave mother with only the boy of five years to help her, cared for the stock, milked many cows, churned and performed the heavy tasks belonging to farm life. (cont'd. next page)

Manhattan Vignette (concluded from p. 49)

Again it was the mother who, carrying with her all that she could on her side saddle, went on horseback to visit the girls. On each trip was ever present the haunting fear, till the river was reached, that a broken cable, a sand bar, or floating ice would prevent crossing.

The parents in courage and enthusiasm, were well matched by the spirit of the young teacher who was also care-taker and home-maker for the three sisters.

An extract from a letter, sent to her dearest girl friend in Ohio--also a teacher, gives a little glimpse of her spirit and work.

"Belle, dear, I've beaten you this year. I've made twenty dollars a month but I have earned every cent of it. I have more than sixty enrolled of all sizes and ages; tiny children, young ladies and gentlemen and one minister's widow who is twenty-five years old. I have worked six hours per day.

We have a new Professor this term. Prof. Preston. E and I take French lessons from him reciting before nine a.m. At two in the afternoon Prof. Preston takes charge of my room while I recite botany to Prof. S.--A pleasant arrangement.

I am having a good time since Prof. P. came. I have now taught nearly nine months with two weeks vacation in the meantime, and I am very tired. I want to be in college as a student. Probably next year a man will be found to teach music and to succeed me in the Preparatory department.

Pres. Denison assures me that when a lady teacher is again needed I shall have the first chance."

Again she speaks of herself and sisters as having washed, ironed and mopped on Saturday besides baking and getting their lessons. She also speaks of attending church in the College Chapel next day at 2 p.m. where Prof. Preston officiated in Episcopal robes. All this is suggestive of heavy responsibilities for a girl of twenty-one.

Did the actors in this drama ever murmur, or for one moment regret their sacrifice? NEVER. They had enlisted for the war; they would not desert. Confidently they anticipated the day when, the College course completed, their children should take places in the world's work making to it a contribution worthy of their parents' investment!

THE VALLY OF THE SHADOW

Four years of study were almost done. The two older daughters were to receive the degree of A. B. The entire family was to be present at the graduation exercises. It was Saturday afternoon before commencement. An errand to town led the younger sister to walk down. There she met a neighbor who told her of the serious illness of her mother.

In the extra work of preparation for commencement she had far exceeded her strength and now results were uncertain. What could be done?

First she must return to her rooms near the old college--a long long walk. Prof. Platt lived near them and, as she passed, she told him her sad story. Dear old professor of kind and sympathetic heart! He was ever ready to lend a hand and now saw his opportunity.

A few days before he had driven to Wabaunsee and on his return finding the river impassible left his horse and buggy with the ferryman. The animal was a dangerous one but, if a suitable driver could be found, she might use it and go home. It seemed a very providence!

Accompanied by her youngest sister and a driver, she started at once on foot. A canoe carried them over the river and they drove out into the dark night. At one place where the darkness was impenetrable the horse suddenly stopped. Examination showed a deep ditch across the road. A little detour passed it safely and late at night the daughters stood by the bed side of their devoted mother.

Early in the morning, leaving the little sister as nurse, the return journey was begun, for it was Baccalaureate Sunday and the young senior must sit with her class. In a group of five, one would be missed.

At the river the foot journey was resumed. The long walk, under a blazing sun, left but a few minutes to don the white gown and join her class not cool and collected assuredly.

When Commencement Day came only the father and little brother were in attendance. After the exercises were ended they heard the word, until then withheld, that death had been very near in the interval since Sunday and that the event was yet undecided. Her life was spared and slowly she came back from the gates of death for long years of continued service to her loved ones.

Oh, "The Price Of The Prairies" paid by these pioneers in toil, privation, sickness, suffering and self abnegation that their children might grow into useful members of society and that the young state might reach it's present place of honor in the national sisterhood. I heard a voice saying "These are they who have come out of great tribulation!"

This "True Kansas Pioneer" was Joseph Haines and the Mrs. Bowen, who presented it and wrote it, was his daughter Laura Emma Haines who married William Goldtrap Bowen.

The eldest daughter (Mrs. Bowen's sister), who was employed as a teacher of the first preparatory department @ K.S.A.C., was Isabella "Belle" M. That first term began 2 Sep 1863 and closed 1 Dec 1863. 36 men and 26 women were enrolled and Belle was one of four teachers.

Jeremiah Evarts Platt was elected principal of the preparatory department and professor of vocal music 3 Dec 1863 but did not begin service until 1 Sep 1864. He built the home which houses the RCGS library.

The two sisters mentioned who attended the prep department the winter term were Martha Anna, 12, and Theophenia Mariah, 9. The latter graduated from K.S.A.C. in 1872 and married Joseph A. Huntington.

The two-year-old son mentioned was Watson Douglass Haines, father of Joe D. Haines who resides in Manhattan at 1924 Vermont.

When Laura Emma and Belle M. graduated in 1867, the other three graduates were Henry Longfellow Denison, John J. Points and Martha (White) Abbott.

Mrs. Bowen's daughter, May Haines (Bowen) Schoonover, was the first child of a graduate to be graduated from the college, class of 1896. The first son of a graduate to be graduated was Raymond Haines Pond, class of 1878, son of Belle Haines Pond.

The above information was gleaned from censuses and Record of the Alumni of the Kansas State Agricultural College, 1914. See also Biography No. 779 in Pioneers of the Blue Stem Prairie, 1976.

THE MANHATTAN DAILY NATIONALIST, Saturday, October 9, 1915

IN SOCIETY
Domestic Science Club

The meeting of Thursday afternoon was devoted chiefly to remniscenses of pioneer days in Manhattan and its vicinity. The program given by the History department with is chairman, Mrs. Daughters, in charge, was intensely interesting.

The president, Mrs. Brink, called attention to the aptness of the subject at this time when the interest and enthusiasm of the entire community are centered upon its early history.

Some of the old songs were sung most charmingly by Mrs. Max Wolf, accompanied by Mrs. Kammeyer. Mrs. Spilman exhibited a time-stained but precious map of the city on which are pictures of our early public buildings, (a few of which remain in whole or part) and a description of them and their uses and of the town in general was very interesting.

Mrs. Greeley gave a bird's-eye view of the city- a beautiful picture framed, by hills on the north, by rivers on the east and south, with thin vine-clad trees, and on the west by the "Silent City," and the stately group of college buildings.

Mrs. H. S. Roberts pictured geographically the social life of 'young' Manhattan when church sewing societies were the chief dissipation and women of all denominations united in the piecing and quilting of an endless succession of quilts. When a party was given, no one was left out but the word was passed along from family to family until the entire community was invited. But alas! This social Eden was lost thru the advent of a new woman who insisted on putting up the social bars!

Mrs. Bowen's paper on Vignettes gave five scenes from the life drama enacted by one of the pioneer families who came to Riley county in 1856. It is a pathetic story of the brave fight against poverty, privation and hardship of every description through long years that they might have a part in the building of a state free from the curse of slavery and give to their children an education which would make of them worthy citizens of that state.

Mrs. Smith spoke of the value of tradition. In the absence of written history, much priceless knowledge has come to us through the stories passed down from father to son. She related some interesting stories associated with Pillbury's Falls.

A number of visitors were present, among them, Mrs. Mason, a former valued member of the club, and wife of S. C. Mason, for many years professor of horticulture in our college, now in the U.S. division of forestry.

ZEANDALE COMMUNITY CHURCH Riley County Kansas

Location: In the village of Zeandale on Kansas Highway 18 seven miles east of Manhattan.

References: Riley County Kansas by Winifred N. Slagg. Zeandale Community Church Records. Mrs. Thelma Baily, Secretary.

Religious meetings in Zeandale Township of Riley County were organised, in the mid 1850s by the Rev. Harvey Jones from the Wabaunsee settlement east of the present village of Zeandale in Wabaunsee County. Services were held on alternate Sundays. In good weather the meeting was held under a large Oak tree on the east side of one of the Pillsbury fields near the "crossing". In bad weather the congregation crowded into a settlers' cabin.

Many of the settlers were Congregationalists so it was natural that the formal organization of a Congregational Church was completed on 20 July 1856. Ten members formed the group which increased to eighteen. In 1858 a school house was built and services were held there. In 1860 a frame church was built but was destroyed by tornado before meetings were held. The group continued meeting in the school house until they disbanded.

A Methodist Church was established in the settlement of Zeandale 17 March 1887. The group disbanded sometime later and the building replaced by a dwelling soon after the turn of the century.

INDIANS ON THE 1870 WABAUNSEE COUNTY KANSAS CENSUS

The following Indians were listed on pages 10-12 of the Wabaunsee County Kansas 1870 census. Page 10 says Wabaunsee Township but is between two Newberry Township listings so may also be Newberry Township. Someone other than the enumerator added derogatory occupations to some of the Indians, e.g. Scalper, Ravisher, Beast of burden, Murders white women in summer times, at govt. expense in winter, Thief, etc. The columns show Dwelling and family numbers, Name, Sex, Profession, Value of real & personal estate, and Place of birth. All are Indian unless W is indicated for White before the age.

REPORTER - Louisville, Kansas (Pottawatomie County) 23 Aug 1877. Myers Valley Items.

A daughter of Frank O'Daniels', three years old, died last week.

On the night of the 12th inst., some unknown person or persons entered the house of Nick Hirsch, when all were gone from home, and stole his wife's jewelry and some gold pieces that he had sent home from California, all worth about $25. The family came home about 11 o'clock and noticed that some one had been in the house and had entered by the window, but did not miss the stolen property until morning. Then they found that a horse picketed near the house, belonging to Wash Miller, was gone. Nothing has been heard of the stolen property. Miller offers a reward for the recovery of the horse. GAS

STATE, NATIONAL NEWS

FOREST HOME
CEMETERY ASSOC.
2208 LARKIN DRIVE
SIOUX FALLS, S.D. 57105

The following letter is copied as received from the Forest Home Cemetery Association and signed by its president, Ray E. Novak.

Dear Friend of History,

Historic sites turned into parking lots....it's happening in every corner of our nation.

In Minnehaha County, South Dakota, a dedicated group of historians and genealogists are standing firm to stop a land developer's bulldozers from plowing through a pioneer cemetery.

Why is the case, before the South Dakota Supreme Court, Forest Home Cemetery vs. Dardanella Financial Corporation important to you?

This landmark case affects every historian, every genealogist, every citizen who believes we must protect this nation's historical past. If this case is lost, we all lose.

In a lower court ruling against Forest Home which is now being appealed, the Judge ruled that the "remains of human beings" do not constitute a cemetery; and that since the cemetery was not kept up with tombstones, was not mowed, etc., "the land has lost its sacred character."

This lower court ruling endangers thousands of abandoned historic cemeteries from one end of this country to the other. This ruling opens the gates for developers and others to ignore the graves of our ancestors, the record of our past, and to bulldoze history into the ground.

While we are fighting for the burial spot of a Civil War veteran, we are also fighting for all who believe in the preservation of history.

We are but a small group of volunteers who have faced the financial and legal resources of a large corporation. To carry on this legal battle, we desperately need the help of others who believe as we do.

We know that every organization has its own local concerns and needs. That is why we would appreciate any contribution to help us win this fight to preserve Forest Home Cemetery. If each person or organization we are writing to sends $25, we will have enough funds to pay current legal bills and continue the appeal.

Please make your gift, which is tax deductible, payable to Forest Home cemetery.

"FRIENDS OF THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES" LAUNCHED

In Atlanta, Georgia in May 1981 at the first National Genealogical Society Conference, Ruth Corry suggested that every genealogist in the country give $1 to the National Archives. Richard Lackey gave the first dollar and the Century Center Hotel staff contributed a frame for the dollar. Thus a campaign was begun.

In Indianapolis, Indiana in May 1982 at the Federation of Genealogical Societies Conference, endorsement was given to solicit at least one dollar per year per genealogist to assist the National Archives to fund specific projects. The projects will be selected by representatives of a Genealogical Coordinating Committee in consultation with the National Archives staff.

Projects under consideration include microfilming complete pension files, completing an index to passport applications and microfilming it, and microfilming service and volunteer records of the Civil War.

FGS will act as the agent to collect these contributions. Gifts of $100 or more may be sent to The Federation of Genealogical Societies, P.O. Box 220, Davenport IA 52805. Smaller checks should be made payable to your genealogical society marked "Archives Gift Fund". These gifts are tax deductible and your cancelled check is your receipt. When sufficient checks have accumulated, the society's treasurer will mail a check to FGS.

This information is taken from the June 1982 Newsletter of the Federation of Genealogical Societies.

CLARIFICATION

The item on page 24 of the May 1982 issue of Kansas Kin concerning the copying rules change at the Kansas State Historical Library should have stated that the change concerns the prints made from microfilm only and not all copywork.

A letter from Portia Allbert, Head Librarian, explains, "We were forced to do this when our five new microfilm readers arrived and we moved the printer out of the reading room to make space for them. There is no same day service but we work on the orders daily and get them ready as soon as we possibly can."

The Kansas State Historical Library in Topeka has received the 1860, 1870 and 1880 censuses of Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska. They are ready to use.

The East Tennessee Historical Society and McClung Historical Collection's new home has been moved from Lawson McGhee Library to the Custom's House, now officially East Tennessee Historical Center, 600 Market Street, Knoxville, Tennessee 37902.

The 1910 census has Soundex or Miracode indexes for 21 states only: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan , Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

There is no truth without proof. Anon

Book Reviews

Legacies: Kansas' Older County Courthouses by Julia A. Wortman and David P. Johnson with introduction by Paul E. Wilson. Kansas State Historical Society, Topeka KS. 63pp. 1981

In the foreword Joseph W. Snell calls the county courthouses, often the most elaborate and striking buildings in the area, "castles on the prairies." And Paul Wilson in the introduction defines the courthouse as the most visible evidence of our tradition of local self-government under law--the meeting place of the government and the governed. Traditionally it was also the site of community social activities, including summer band concerts on the spacious lawn. Julia Wortman suggests that the older courthouses may survive because they offer four legacies--a material legacy as well as legacies of culture, beauty and inspiration. Seventy-five were constructed before 1941, the earliest Chase county at Cottonwood Falls. Most of those constructed since 1941 resemble modern office buildings.

The photographic essay by David P. Johnson includes pictures of the most striking courthouses or unusual features of the buildings. A concluding section contains small pictures of all the older courthouses, date of construction, names of architect and contractor, style of architecture, and brief description of building and lot. This beautifully written and illustrated book cannot fail to arouse the interest of the reader not only in viewing these remarkable buildings but also in saving them.

Early History of William Fyfe and Margaret Davidson by Mary Fyfe Buss, Rt. 1, Box 15, Ames KS 66931 Pronto Print, 1978. 42 pp, illus. $7.50

Covering the years from 1870 to 1978, this history contains complete family charts of the eight children of William and Margaret Fyfe, who with their five older children came to the United States in 1871 from Ayrshire, Scotland. He became a naturalized citizen April 17, 1816 at Joliet, Ill. They came to Kansas in 1879. Their descendents hold an annual reunion the second Sunday in August in Oak Hill, Ks. Their progenitors are buried in the Mount Liberty Cemetery west of Oak Hill.

The surname came from the Earl of Fife who, in 1100, owned all the land across the Tay river from Dundee, Scotland, known locally as the Kingdom of Fife. All his descendents and serfs who worked his fields took the name.
Family pictures are included in the history.

A Family Record of Capt. Samuel Cole, Sr., His Ancestors and Descendents. Lenora Cole Haney and Earl H. Teagarden. 41 pp. 1982

Information in this 41-page history was assembled by Lenora Cole Haney, Colby, Ks., and the material arranged by Earl H. Teagarden, Manhattan, Ks., both numbered among the descendents.

Barent Jacobsen Kool, born in Holland in 1610, came to America in 1633 in the service of the West India Company of New Amsterdam. Samuel Cole Sr. was the son of the great-grandson of this original Kool immigrant. The family moved west into Ohio and later descendents on into Kansas, many settling in Reno and Pratt counties.

Biographical information is included about many family members, including "Aunt" Ethel Cole, whose records on southern Reno county will become the Ethel Cole Collection in the Spencer Library at the University of Kansas. An Ethel Cole Memorial Scholarship through the Kansas State University Foundation will be awarded annually to a student who has been active in 4-H.

The President presents

It is with a great deal of pride that we celebrate 20 years of publication of the Kansas Kin. We look forward to 20 more years of Kansas Kin. A big thank you to Evelyn Brown, editor, and her staff for putting out this special issue.

A used cabinet for our surname file was purchased making the surname file much more accessible. You will want to get your charts up to date and turned in so your surnames can be placed in the file.

Thank you to Harvey Littrell, Joanne Leach and Laurene Pittman for an excellent workshop on Oct. 2.

Appreciation to Jim Cavenee for repairing a leaking stool at the Platt House.

We are grateful to Sheri Butler for taking care of publicity for our society.

Robert Littrell was named chairman of the nominating committee. Other members are Ruby Williams and Golda Sitz. Election of officers for 1983 will be at the November 29 membership meeting.

It is time to pay dues for 1983. Your library is constantly adding materials to help you with your search for family. Your memberships and contributions are our only source of income so we help each other when we pay our dues.

You may also want to add a dollar to help with the Federation of Genealogical Societies' project of microfilming and making available records in the National Archives.

Some of our ancestors were saints and some were sinners, but no matter. We get a certain kind of satisfaction in knowing about those who have gone before us.

Annie

Lost time is never found again.

1983 Memberships Due
Includes Volunteer Contributions to Archives

Please pay particular attention to the insert in this issue concerning membership dues for 1983. These dues are payable on or before January 1. Those who fail to submit their dues on time cause additional work, expense and frustration to the membership chairman, the mailing secretary, and the treasurer.

The deadline for renewing memberships without a 50¢ fine is January 15.

Those who wish to contribute an additional $1 or more to the Archives Gift Fund (see p. 57 August 1982 Kansas Kin) may do so. These dollars will be forwarded to the Federation of Genealogical Societies which acts as agent for projects to assist the National Archives in microfilming and indexing.

GEARY COUNTY KANSAS CEMETERIES PROJECT COMPLETED

The RCGS project of reading the smaller cemeteries of Geary County was completed in October after several years work. Tombstone inscriptions in over 20 cemeteries were read and recorded by RCGS members.

All known cemeteries, excluding those in Junction City, are included and a master index has been prepared.

The worth of this project was made clear this fall when the Manhattan Mercury ran an article about a tombstone which had been in the Riley County Police department for six months and all attempts to locate its proper resting place had failed.

By checking the Geary County cemeteries index we were able to tell the police where the tombstone belonged.

READER RELATES INTEREST IN AUGUST 1982 ISSUE

"I was very interested in the last issue of Kansas Kin. I roomed and boarded for a school year with the John Grayson family in Lawrence when I attended K.U. Lila was close to my age." (p. 44, Grayson Bible Record)

"Either Mrs. Bowen or Mrs. McKeen, her sister, or both of them lived a block from us on 14th St. (in Manhattan). I remember both. The friendly New York family with whom the Haines family stayed for a while was my great-grandparents, the Bisbeys. Edith Haines was a nurse and was in Denver for several years. She took care of my father in his last illness." (pp. 48-51, 1856 Pioneer)

1870 DAVIS COUNTY KANSAS CENSUS COMPLETED

This 1870 Davis (Geary) County federal census lists over 5500 residents of Davis and Junction City townships and of Fort Riley.

The census was compiled by Evelyn Brown and includes a surname index. It is dedicated to the memory of Mary A. Mead, former RCGS member who initiated interest in the census with her gift of the Fort Riley pages.

The 58 page book sells for $13.50. All proceeds go to RCGS and orders should be addressed to the Society.

REGIONAL

KANSAS KIN COMPLETES TWENTIETH YEAR

In the fall of 1962, the Riley County Genealogical Society of 45 members decided to publish a quarterly. During the business meeting, members of the group began to suggest names. As suggestions were flying through the air, "Kansas" was used many times, as were "Riley County" and "Kin". Finally "Kansas" and "Kin" were said together, and became the enthusiastic choice of the members.

Earl G. Darby was the first editor, writing much of the copy, typing all of it, and searching for material which would be valuable for preservation.

The distinctive cover was designed by Frank N. Parshall, and since that time has been changed only to include the new address.

For ten years Mr. Darby edited the publication, four issues each year, 16 pages per issue. From the beginning Kansas Kin has been printed by the offset method rather than mimeographed. He planned many of the pages using an 80% reduction, so that more copy could be included. During that time, the pages were printed individually, and were assembled, stapled, and punched by the editor, his wife, and occasionally others.

During that time E. H. Teagarden prepared supplements for Kansas Kin: In 1964 "A Directory of Earliest Known Ancestors from Ancestral Charts of Members and a Membership Roster." This was followed in 1965 and 1966 by supplements to the Directory.

In January 1973, Miriam Dexter was appointed editor of Kansas Kin, but because she did not retire until March, E. H. Teagarden convinced her she could accept the position by editing the February 1973 issue himself. He set up an editorial staff who accepted the responsibility of assisting the editor. Two of these are still serving: M. Christine Wiggins on Cemetery and Church Records and Roberta Albrecht on Family and Bible Records.

Another staff change was the addition of a member to be responsible for mailing Kansas Kin. Virginia Chatelain served the first two years, Evelyn Brown the next four and Evelyn Hanna the last four years. With the big increase in membership and Exchanges, this is a most important position.

Kansas Kin had been mailed as third class material until November 1975, when it was possible to begin using the Non-profit Organization Permit No. 234. Securing the permit entailed preparation of the constitution in line with post office regulations, and providing detailed statements of purpose. It was also necessary to list assets so, for the first time, an inventory was made of the Society's holdings. Evelyn Brown and Mary Roberts were instrumental in getting the permit.

Kansas Kin continued to be printed at the Ag Press, but it began being saddle stitched in the center and punched by the printer, ready for mailing.

Most of the issues from 1976 have included 20 pages, all designed to include 20% more copy through the use of reduction of large size pages. Staff members have been most cooperative in typing the final copy for publication. This not only helps the editor, but it gives variation in type style, making for a more interesting layout.

Three special supplements were published in the six years that Ms. Dexter was editor. The first, in 1974, was another edition of the Directory of Earliest Known Ancestors by E. H. Teagarden. The second, in 1977, was a detailed list of all the books in the RCGS Library in the Barn, "RCGS Library Acquisitions to November 1, 1977." It was prepared by Evelyn Brown and Elaine Olney. The third, in 1978, was a map and description of location of all cemeteries in Riley County, "Cemeteries of Riley County, Kansas," by Mary Roberts.

Evelyn Brown became editor in 1978 and several more supplements have been mailed with the November issues of Kansas Kin. In 1980, "Cemeteries of Pottawatomie County, Kansas" by Merrie Pinick and in 1982, "Manhattan Kansas Street Names" by Connie Cavenee.

Indexing is an exacting assignment and Alice Soldan has done a commendable job for the past four years. Without faithful and tireless staff members like her, Kansas Kin would not maintain its twenty-year reputation as one of the best genealogical periodicals.

All but the last two paragraphs are taken from Miriam Dexter's "Final Report" in 1978.

GENEALOGY IN MANHATTAN

It was October 29, 1962, that the organization of the Riley County, Kansas, Genealogical Society was formed. A small group had been meeting informally at 908 Kearney since the fall of 1958 using the name Genealogical Associates. Members present included the Darbys, Parshalls, Teagardens, Erik Conard, Miriam Dexter, Lurye Emig, Robert Conover, Morris Werner, and others. The only genealogical society in Kansas was in Dodge City and was then known as Southwest Kansas Genealogical Society. The name including Riley County definitely put us into northeast Kansas. Col. C. A. Edson of Syracuse, New York, had been the speaker for the group May 4, 1962, at the Wareham Hotel, with 52 present. He had suggested that we were missing so much by not having a newsletter to exchange with other groups. Officers elected were: Editor, Erik P. Conard; Secretary, Lurye Emig; Treasurer, Henrietta Darby. Erik Conard typed the first issue of Volume 1 of Kansas Kin for January 1963 which included the 45 charter members.* He was then elected President and Earl G. Darby and Earl H. Teagarden became Editors. Grace Shaw Woldt was on the board as Genealogist from the beginning.

The year 1958 was not the beginning of genealogical research in Manhattan. The DAR was formed in 1912 and members did a little research on their lineages. In the early 1900's Simeon M. Fox of Manhattan had spent months in Massachusetts and Connecticut researching original records for his material for the Descendants of "Thomas Fox of Concord". He was a correspondent of Donald Lines Jacobus and of John I. Coddington and many other genealogists in the East. He answered queries in the Boston Transcript and Hartford Times, and was listed in the publication "Who's Who in Genealogy in 1914". His library was willed to Mrs. Woldt by his daughter, Florence Fox Harrop, in 1965 and was added to her library, which was given in Volume 1, Number 1 of Kansas Kin as being over 300 volumes.

The Elizabeth Knapp Chapter National Society Daughters of American Colonists was organized December 3, 1949, in Manhattan. The research done by this group was done in the Fox library and in the Kansas Historical Society Library in Topeka. Later, in 1956, this group borrowed several boxes of books from the State DAC Library for a week's workshop in the Woldt home. This was open to all; morning, afternoon and evening. Several came from Abilene for the research. This was the first open workshop for genealogical research in Manhattan.

Mrs. Woldt was being asked to give talks on genealogy to various organizations. In 1954 Lelia Whearty and she attended the Institute for Genealogical Research in the National Archives in Washington, DC, sponsored by the American University. Among the 30 members of the class was E. Kay Kirkham, who now is an author and has a regular column in the Genealogical Helper. Lelia and she researched in New England and in many states on the way home. Mrs. Woldt attended the Institute again in 1965 to update her data on available genealogical reference material and research methods.

An article by Carol Sitz on Mrs. Woldt's genealogical research was in the Manhattan Mercury in March 1958. Lurye Emig clipped the article and called Mrs. Woldt. This was the beginning of a few people coming to her home to do research. Erik Conard, a high school teacher in Manhattan, began attending in 1961. He had done much research in Illinois and was able to help people needing research in that area. As more people learned of the availability of material in the Woldt library, a monthly meeting was started. When some people wanted more days to work in the library, afternoon workshops were set up. The group became known as the Genealogical Associates. At the October 1962 meeting the name was changed to Riley County, Kansas, Genealogical Society. An annual dinner with a speaker was held each year.

Several of the charter members began collecting material from Riley County sources to be made available to researchers. Mrs. Woldt was subscribing to the Hartford Times for the Genealogical Section in 1950. Earl G. Darby indexed the questions and answers in that section for about ten years. These were used by many for years. He also indexed the census records for Riley County from 1855 to 1885, as well as 1880 census for Riley and the surrounding counties and several other counties. Many other records were compiled by him and by other members.

In the summer of 1967 a room 16'x 20' was added to a small bedroom in Mrs. Woldt's home. By this time workshops were being held each Wednesday evening and each Thursday afternoon with the monthly meeting on the last Monday.

The World Conference on Records was held in Salt Lake City in 1969. Mrs. Woldt found much material there to put in her library to help the members.

In 1970 Mrs. Woldt worked with Zoe Slinkman of the Kansas State University Extension Service to put together a booklet on Genealogical Research. These were sent to every county in Kansas. Two classes on research were taught by Mrs. Woldt in 1971 in the Manhattan Area Vocational Technical School. In 1972 she taught the Telenetwork class on Genealogy that was received in 20 to 22 locations in Kansas. Erik Conard was teaching in the Neosho County Community College in Chanute and suggested Mrs. Woldt as the teacher. He was in charge of the class receiving the class work in Chanute. She continued to teach Telenetwork classes until the fall of 1977. One result of the classes was the formation of the Kansas Council of Genealogical Societies in 1974.

As more genealogical societies were formed, Mrs. Woldt was asked to give workshops in Topeka, Douglas Co., Hays, Abilene, McPherson, etc. Other speaking engagements on genealogy included the state meeting of the Kansas Library Association in Topeka in 1976 and the Kansas Recreation Workshop at Rock Springs Ranch in 1978 and 1979. She went out over the state in 1978 and 1979 to give eight more workshops where initial arrangements were made by the State DAR after requests were received for needed help in research for prospective member applicants.

Other members were receiving requests to share their knowledge by giving the program at various organizations. The University for Man scheduled classes in genealogy that were taught by Elaine Olney. Golda Sitz and Virginia Chatelain became the genealogists for the Society.

As the Bicentennial of the United States approached plans were made in 1975 to participate by collecting and publishing in a book biographies of the pioneers of Riley County and the six surrounding counties. Elaine Olney and Mary Roberts were in charge of the project. The title of the book became Pioneers of the Bluestem Prairie. Most of the members of the Riley County Genealogical Society set aside their personal research to help with the project. Some worked on researching, some on contacts with family letters, some on writing, typing, proof reading, indexing, and layout of pages. The cover of the book was designed by Dorothy Keen. The book was completed, ready for distribution in July 1976, and considered a hugh success. The garage sale and the profit from the book enabled the Society to increase the list of books owned by them.

In 1975 at every workshop those working on research were using the library for checking censuses of Riley and surrounding counties for family records. The increase in the number of researchers caused crowded conditions in the library and a committee was formed, which included Mrs. Woldt, to locate a larger place to house the library. The Kansas State Historical Society offered them half of the Goodnow Barn in the Museum Complex. The move was made to the Barn in the summer of 1977 after the members used their skills to prepare the room to be used as a library.

In 1980 a search for a new home was begun when the Kansas State Historical Society made plans to use the room occupied by the library. A 20 year lease was obtained on a house built in 1871 by Jeremiah Platt. The members donated many hours to remodel and redecorate the Platt house, the details

THE CHARLES TAYLOR AND ANN GLASS FAMILY

Interest in this family was initiated when it was first noted on the 1865 Wabaunsee County, Kansas census. The recording of the census was one of the ongoing projects of RCGS.

Further family information was found in the Kansas censuses of 1859 through 1900; Lewis County, Washington censuses; Sunset Cemetery records, Manhattan; Riley County land records, marriages and wills; St. Paul's Episcopal church records of Manhattan; and Wabaunsee County land and probate records.

Special thanks goes to Mrs. Harry (Margaret L.) Shields, researcher for the Lewis County, Washington museum, who keyed in on living descendants; to Mrs. Bernard (Ina M. Layton) Lane of Seattle, a descendant through Edward C.B., John Andrew and Lena Belle Taylor, who gave much help with the family history; and, last but not least, to Peter A. Munch, author of Crisis in Utopia, who patiently corrected background material about Tristan da Cunha and graciously contributed records from that island.*

WOULD YOU BELIEVE THAT the maternal family Bible of a former Manhattan, Kansas milliner is in the British Museum,

or that

her parents met when her father was dropped from a whaler onto a South Atlantic island to die,

or that they chose to leave their island Utopia to come to the embroiled Kansas of the late 1850s?

The entry in the 1865 Wabaunsee County census which whetted curiosity was in Zeandale Township and listed 51-year-old Charles Taylor who had been born in New Hampshire, 45-year-old Ann who was born in 'Tristean Dacunha', three children listed as born in 'Tristean Dacunha', and two born in Kansas.

THE ISLAND

Tristan da Cunha is a volcanic island in the South Atlantic about midway between South Africa and South America - 1500 miles west of Cape Town, 1700 miles east of Rio de Janeiro. Its area is 37 square miles and it had 264 residents when it was vacated in 1961 after a volcanic eruption. It is a windswept, lonely, weatherbeaten rock in a turbulent ocean.

Tristan was named after a Portuguese admiral who discovered it in 1506. The Dutch attempted settlement in 1656 and the East Indian Company later in that century. In 1810 Jonathan Lambert of Salem, Massachusetts settled there with two companions but was drowned in a boat accident.

In 1816 a British garrison was stationed on Tristan to prevent any attempt to rescue Napoleon from St. Helena, some 1300 miles north. The garrison was withdrawn in 1817 but Corp. William Glass was permitted to remain with his family.

WILLIAM GLASS

Glass was born 2 May 1787 in Kelso, Roxburgshire, Scotland. In his youth he was a gentleman's servant in a noted family at Alnwick in northern England.

He enlisted in the Royal Artillery and was sent in 1806 at age 19 to the Cape of Good Hope, which at that time was still a Dutch colony but under British occupation. He was the personal attendant to an officer and advanced to corporal, then was put in charge of a party of native South-African artillery drivers when he was selected for the British garrison on Tristan.

Glass was married at the Cape in July 1814 to Maria (Mary) Magdalena Leenders who was of the Dutch peoples and not yet 14 years old. She was born 1 January 1802 or 1801 on the Cape.

Their children were all born on Tristan da Cunha (TD) except the first who was born on the Cape:

Several Glass children were named after special people or ships, all new arrivals to Tristan at about the same time.

The paintings and drawings of Glass and family members by Augustus Earle are in the Nan Kivell Collection, the National Library of Australia, Canberra. A descendant has copies of some of these, watercolors done in 1824.

William Glass was a deeply religious person and a devout member of the Church of England. He was held in high esteem by his superior officers and appears to have assumed the image of a distant and venerable patriarch on those around him at Tristan.

LIFE ON THE ISLAND

The British soldiers who remained on Tristan when the garrison was removed in 1817 had in mind a utopic anarchy in which "no member shall assume any superiority whatever, but all to be considered as equal in every respect."

Glass became the un-named leader of the Island.

Crisis in Utopia, Thomas Y. Crowell Co., c1971*

The Tristan 'constitution' was rediscovered in 1932 in the custody of an aging grand-daughter of William Glass in New London, Connecticut. It was deposited in the British Museum along with the Glass Family Bible and other papers. These had evidently been taken from the Island when the widow and the clan left Tristan in 1856.*

His house, commonly called "Government House", was the social and religious center of the Island. Glass would conduct short Sunday services there, reading passages from the Bible. At night the little group of settlers would gather in front of the sitting room fire and tell stories of adventure or sing sailors' songs.

There were four families who remained on the island through the years and when the inhabitants were evacuated in 1961 there were only seven surnames on the island - Glass, Green, Hagan, Rogers, Swain, Lavarello and Repetto. The last two were ship-wrecked Italian seamen who chose to stay on the Island in the 1890s.

The Islanders were evacuated to an abandoned military base in England after the 1961 volcanic eruption, given jobs and considered permanent residents. But within two years most had rejected modern civilization and fought their way back to Tristan.

CHARLES TAYLOR

Charles Taylor was born around 1814 in Concord, New Hampshire. His father came to America with his brothers from Glasgow, Scotland. Charles' brothers were Samuel who worked for the Seth Thomas Clock Manufacturing Co. in Bristol, Connecticut; Badger "Bagg" who had a cranberry farm; John who was a machinist; Joshua who was a boiler maker; and Albert, a stockman whose cattle were "prize winning". The Albert Taylor farm in Chicago was taken over by the Union Stockyards, which enterprise Albert helped found. Charles Taylor also had a sister.

Charles became an orphan soon after his birth and was given by the brothers to another family in Concord to raise. Charles sailed on a whaler from New London, Connecticut as a cooper, making barrels for the whale oil.

The number of whalers calling at Tristan for supplies had increased during the 1830s and reached a peak during the 1840s. Sometimes as many as 60 or 70 ships could be seen at one time off the Island. For a short time Tristan became an outpost of the whaling communities of New Bedford, Massachusetts and New London, Connecticut.

Charles survived from a wrecked whaling ship, sailed again, and eventually became very ill with inflammatory rheumatism. About 1837 he was put ashore on Tristan to die but regained his health and married his nurse, Glass' daughter Ann.

Taylor reportedly built several fine homes on the Island. One was built for his brother-in-law Capt. Hagan and was still occupied in 1971 by a grandson, David Hagan. It has tall gables and smooth masonry work of huge soft-stone blocks and was complete with a cellar. (see page 70 for picture).

A number of guns were taken to Tristan in 1816 by the British garrison. When the garrison was removed the guns were left on the Island. Charles Taylor put them to good use; he made gate posts with them.

Another contribution which Charles Taylor reportedly made to the Islanders was the first spinning wheel that existed on Tristan.

William Glass died in November 1853 of cancer at age 67. On 17 January 1856 his widow and most of the clan sailed in two whale-ships for New London, Connecticut. There were 25 including Jane Glass Rogers and Charles Taylor and their families. Three sons, five daughters, a son-in-law and ten grandchildren accompanied the widow to New London, leaving only two behind.

Mary Leenders Glass died 10 October 1858 at New London and is buried at Cedar Grove Cemetery there.

AT HOME IN KANSAS

Charles Taylor traded wool for the passage to New England. The family settled temporarily at Manchester, New Hampshire and at Lowell, Massachusetts where Charles worked as a machinist.

Then they joined a caravan going West and eventually settled on Deep Creek southeast of Manhattan, Kansas. "In the wagon train was Barney Kimble, Levi Woodman; George, Ed and Nate Bowers, M. Taber, who was later a senator from Denver, Colo.; William and Harry Marshall, Jim Van Brookland, Daniel Bates and the Pillsbury brothers." Topeka Daily Capital June 27, 1926. Topeka, Kansas.

Zeandale Township was at one time in Davis (Geary) County, then in Wabaunsee County until 1871 when it was made a part of Riley County. An 1859 Davis County census lists both Charles Taylor and his eldest son William F. G. and states that their dates of settlement were April 1857. They were on an 1858 Zeandale Township poll list.

In October 1857 Charles Taylor received a patent to 120 acres in Zeandale Township by locating on a military land warrant. The elder Taylor, along with his two eldest sons, built a log house on the farm and broke out land for corn. Shortly before the Civil War a prairie fire swept everything away, including 3000 bushels of corn.

The 1870 census indicates that Charles had 5 horses, 3 milch cows, 3 other cattle, 1 swine, 300 bushels of spring wheat and 500 bushels of Indian corn.

Charles died 12 October 1874. Samuel R. Weed wrote his will in which he left $1000 to Happy Sarah, $500 to Albert, $50 to Edward's son Charles, $5 to Mary Beil and the remainder to be equally divided among Edward C. B., Joshua T., and Isabella Jane Divine(Devine). His wife Ann was bequeathed all personal property.

The storm which was so threatening here, Sunday evening, did come damage down on Deep Creek. The Taylor house, occupied by Mm. Chapman, was partially unroofed, the 3 x 6 rafters being converted into kindling wood. A funnel shaped cloud heralded the approach of the storm, which lasted but a short time, and during which hail as large as hen's eggs were precipitated. Judge Blain reports the loss of twenty-five panes of glass. We have heard of no further damages.
Manhattan, Kansas Nationalist, May 9, 1884, p. 1

After most of the family had moved to Washington state, the farm was rented. On 26 October 1886 the original patent of 120 acres was appraised at $2400 and sold to Thomas O'Neill. A descendant of O'Neill, Jim Holenbeck , now (1982) lives in the native stone house with his wife.

Charles Taylor is buried in Pleasant Valley Cemetery south of Zeandale in Riley County, Kansas.

ANN GLASS

Ann Todridge Fotheringham Glass was born 29 Aug 1820 on Tristan and christened on 1 Jan 1822 by Dr. Patch, surgeon of Blenden Hall ship.

She was named after Ann Pepper, a survivor of the Blenden Hall, and the wife of Lt. John Pepper. 'Todridge' was given after Capt. James Todridge, who had a sealing-vessel and who lived in England.

Capt. Todridge was interested in the education of the Glass children, as he took William and Mary home to England so that they could procure a good education for one year.

'Fotheringham', Ann's other name, came from Thomas Fotheringham, who arrived on the Island to stay in 1820, departed two years later on Glass' boat for the Cape. Neither returned to the Island.

Those who remembered Ann Glass said she had a slender face and wavy hair, was cheerful and very friendly. She could quote passages from the Bible better than anybody because the Bible was her primary textbook on the Island. She learned to read from the Bible.

Ann lived 36 years on Tristan and 36 years in the United States, primarily in Kansas and Washington. Several of her Kansas experiences were recounted by her son Joshua in an article in the Topeka Daily Capital of June 27, 1926.

"I remember when as a kid he (Bill Hickok) used to come to our house on the old Kaw and Otoe trail and ask mother for a drink of milk. She would hand him a large crock of milk and he would down it at one standing; but when it come to booze, he wasn't such a prolific drinker. He was then sheriff at Abilene, Kans. I was in Manhattan when Wild Bill came riding in with two white men who had been scalped by Indians. Old Dr. Pattee of Manhattan dressed their raw wounds and they both recovered."

One day on the farm, when young Taylor's father was away from home, four of the "galvanized soldiers" who had deserted and escaped from Fort Riley came to the house asking for food. Taylor's mother took them in and got up a big supper for them; afterwards wrapping up a large lunch for each of them, of biscuit and meat.

They inquired of young Taylor about the way so as to avoid the towns and trouble and went off. Several years later as Taylor was traveling on the train to Wichita he was accosted by a neat looking traveling man who asked him, if he remembered helping four soldiers from Fort Riley.

He then told Taylor the history of the four men. One had died; but the other three had all succeeded and were occupying responsible positions in the world. The ex-soldier gave Taylor a letter to his mother. When it was delivered to her in Manhattan and she opened it, it was found to contain a $20 bill.

Ann Taylor died at Toledo, Washington on 14 March 1893 and is buried at Firlawn Memorial Park Cemetery there. She was 72 years old and had survived her husband 19 years. Only six of her 14 children survived her. For 26 years she had suffered paralysis of the left side.

During her latter years she lived with her daughter, Isabella Divine, at Toledo, Washington. A separate room was given her and she had a special chair because of the paralysis.

CHARLES AND ANN TAYLOR'S CHILDREN

Children 1 & 2, 4-9 were listed on an Easter 1855 list of Tristan da Cunha. The list was submitted by Peter A. Munch with the following notation: The first resident clergyman on Tristan was William F. Taylor (no relation to Charles Taylor). Early each year he used to make up a list of the inhabitants of the island with birth dates of the children and remarks about how well they could read.

1. WILLIAM F. G. TAYLOR patented 120 acres on a military land warrant on 5 Dec 1859 in Wabaunsee County. His land adjoined his father's on the south. The 1860 census shows him as a laborer living with Geo. G. Hall in Wabaunsee Township. He may have returned to the east coast and worked for his uncle who owned a ship. It was stated that a Taylor son did not like life in America and it may have been William, or he may have died of typhoid.

2. CHARLES A. TAYLOR died during a typhoid epidemic and is buried on a hill above the residence on Deep Creek. He is listed in the 1860 census but not on the 1865 census so probably died between those dates.

Edward Charles Barker Taylor 1843-1900

4. EDWARD C. B. TAYLOR enrolled in the Civil War on 12 Aug 1862, Company K of the 9th Regiment, Kansas Cavalry and was honorably discharged on 24 Jun 1865. He later received a Civil War pension.

He married Sarah Ann Shultz, daughter of Lawrence and Delilah (Bumgardner) Shultz, at Squiresville, Johnson County, Kansas on 3 Jul 1863. They and a son were living in the Archibald McEwen household in Mission Creek Township, Wabaunsee County in 1865.

On 23 Apr 1877 the Edward Taylor family left with their children in a caravan with other Kansas settlers for the far West. Others on the trip were Sarah's parents with one team, the Isaac W. Shultz family with two teams, the Hughes with three teams, Forrester with an oxen that kept up with the horses, the Sparhawks with three teams, Dingman with one team and Shurbunka with one team.

Isaac & John Shultz and their father (Lawrence Shultz), Ed Taylor, Lawrence M'Ewen, Mr. Sparhawk and others of this vicinity, and J. G. Hughes of Bala, expect to start for Washington Territory, overland, next Monday. They will be on the road about four months, and we trust that they may have a pleasant trip and find everything to their liking.
Manhattan Nationalist, Friday, Apr 20, 1877

The wagon train was made up of 21 members from Kansas. Edward Taylor was the wagon boss and had two wagons, a riding pony, a colt and an extra horse as well as two dogs - a shepherd and a bulldog. Some of the people scattered to different places, some stopping along the way to work, others going to California.

The Taylors were four months on the road, arriving in Aug 1877 at Portland, Oregon. From Portland they took a boat to Monticello. They purchased land along the Cowlitz River in Lewis County, Washington and removed the forest of fir trees to get farming land.

Edward died 27 Mar 1900 in Toledo, Washington and his wife Sarah on 9 Mar 1928. They are buried in Lone Hill Cemetery at Layton Prairie, Washington.

Their children were born in Zeandale Township except the youngest who was born in Toledo, Washington Territory. They were:

a. Lawrence Edward b 1 Dec 1864, d 3 Apr 1930, m 12 Nov 1890 Blanche Bowen.
b. Delilah A. b 8 Jul 1866, d 1960 at age 94, m 25 Jun 1885 James Tanner.
c. Isaac William "Bill" b 20 Dec 1867, d 22 Dec 1917, m 9 Aug 1888 Clara Daisy Bowen.
d. Mahala Belle "Tillie" b 20 Feb 1870, d 5 Jan 1884 of scarlet fever.
e. John Andrew b 21 Jan 1872, d 6 Nov 1935, m 27 May 1894 Nellie Florence Omeg.
f. Charles b 7 (1) Nov 1873, d 15 Jan 1884 of scarlet fever.
g. Lillie May(Mae) b 21 Feb 1883, bur 26 Apr 1956, m 22 Mar 1900 George N. Bowen.

Several descendants still reside in Lewis County, Washington. Others may be found in various sections of the state, both east and west of the mountains.

5. MARY ANN TAYLOR became a communicant of St. Paul's Episcopal Church (Manhattan) 9 Jun 1869. She was married by Rev. James H. Lee 3 Jul 1867 in Manhattan to Charles Beal (Beil) who was born ca 1830 in Hesse, Germany.

They were living with her parents in 1870 but by 1875 had moved to Manhattan where Beal was a shoemaker. Later he was in the real estate business. He died 6 Jan 1880 and is buried in Sunset Cemetery, Manhattan. That year his widow is living on Pointz Avenue with a son, her brother Joshua and a 9-year-old servant girl.

In 1885 she is living with T. Norcross and they are both milliners. Mary A. died 7 May 1885 and is buried in Sunset Cemetery.

Her minor son, John Wallace, was placed under the guardianship of Edward W. Newell with whom he was living in 1900 in Clay Center. He became a doctor and lived in Kansas City, Missouri and his son, Wallace, also was a doctor.

The Beal's children were all born in Kansas: Bertha May and Martha M b 12 Aug 1868, d 28 Aug 1869 ?, bur Sunset Cem; Nena (Mena) b 19 Apr 1870, d 8 May 1871, bur Sunset Cem; John Wallace b 10 May 1875 Riley County, Kansas.

Isabella Jane Taylor Devine 1850-1912

8. ISABELLA JANE TAYLOR was married by Rev. James H. Lee 22 Feb 1868 in Manhattan to a tinsmith, Charles Devine, who was born ca 1850 in New York.

Their children were born in Kansas: Anna Bell b 2 Nov 1873, m James Pyron; Edward E. d 10 Nov 1878 at 3 months, bur in Charles Beil lot in Sunset Cemetery, Manhattan.

In 1886 this family migrated to Toledo, Washington where Charles opened a tinsmith shop and Isabella had a popular millinery and dress shop for many years.

Charles was elected as a member of the first town council after the incorporation of Toledo in 1892. He also served as the agent for various steamboat companies that operated 'sternwheelers' on the Cowlitz River.

Charles and Isabella Devine moved to Lentz, Oregon in 1907. After an illness of six months, Isabella died there 21 Oct 1912. The remains were brought to Toledo, Washington and interred in the Firlawn Memorial Park Cemtery where other family members are buried.

9. ELIZABETH TAYLOR did not live in Kansas, as her parents left her in Chicago where she resided with her father's brother, Albert Taylor and his wife, who had no children. They fell in love with little Elizabeth and begged the parents to let her stay with them in Chicago. Elizabeth never forgave her parents for not permitting her to grow up with her brothers and sisters.

Elizabeth inherited Albert Taylor's wealth. She married a Mr. ___Von Auld Stein at Chicago and they had one son, Fred, who died several years before his mother.

After Elizabeth became elderly she moved to Santa Barbara, California to live with her immediate family. As an adult, Elizabeth kept in contact with her Taylor relatives through visits and correspondence.

She became blind and paralyzed and died at Santa Barbara sometime after Oct 1912. Her signature on a letter written to a nephew in Feb 1905 was "Lizzie von Stein".

10. JOSHUA T. TAYLOR was a toddler when his family left Tristan. He lived in a number of places in Kansas after keeping the farm going for his widowed mother.

He married 17 Nov 1880 at Zeandale to Emma Glidden who was born Nov 1855 in New York. They took his mother to live with a younger son, Albert, in Lewis County, Washington.

Joshua spent five years there as a sawmill engineer after which he entered the civil service and ran a pumping station in Jefferson barracks. He was transferred to Fort Riley where he was boiler inspector for six years.

In 1900 he is living on 12th street in Junction City, Kansas where he is a cobbler. Taylor moved to Texas where he purchased a farm and later located in Topeka, Kansas where he died.

Joshua was married twice and had only one daughter, Bertie, who married a Mr. Harris who worked as an employee of a railroad in Kansas.

A 1926 article about Joshua "Oldest Cobbler in Kansas Recounts days of Indians, Buffalo and Cowboys Here" in the Topeka Daily Capital will be published in a future issue of Kansas Kin.

12. ALBERT J. TAYLOR left Kansas as a young man and was the first to migrate to Lewis County, Washington. He influenced other family members to leave Kansas for the far West. Albert was married ca 1881 and had two daughters, Anna and Maude who married a Mr. Andrews.

Albert moved to Blaine, Whatcom County, Washington and probably died there between 1912-1933.

Happy Sarah Taylor Wilson Look

14. HAPPY SARAH TAYLOR was married (1) 15 Feb 1882 in Manhattan to J. W. Wilson, (2) 21 May 1885 in Wabaunsee County, Kansas to Frank S. Look. A daughter Clara was born Sep 1883 from the first marriage and she married Hiram Hanford.

Children from the second marriage: William b Oct 1887; May b 1896, m Mr. Benny. In 1900 the Looks were living in Menoken Township, Shawnee County, Kansas.

Happy was 11 when her father died and was married by age 16. She did not remember her elder brothers and little of her mother. She lived her life in Kansas but did keep in contact with her cousin, Dr. Wallace Beil.

When Happy was in her seventies she still took care of the sick, the invalids and infants. She would be away from home several months at a time nursing. She was healthy and active and never considered herself as old. In 1938 she had five great-grandchildren.

It would be interesting to know if this adventurous family felt that Kansas was a haven between the area which includes the Falkland Islands and the area in Washington where Mount St. Helens stands.

Book Reviews

Sherman County & Family History Vol. I,II,III. Limited Edition 1980-81. Sherman County Historical Society, Goodland KS. 1156pp. $60.00

Starting with the earliest recorded event of Sherman county, the massacre by hostile Indians of Lt. Lyman Kidder, dispatcher for Lt. Col. Geo. A. Custer, in July, 1867, when herds of wild horses ranged over buffalo grass prairies, this 3-volume set records the history of the early settlers Who Came To Stay, the sub-title of the set. This vast plain was named in honor of General Sherman in 1873.

The first two settlers started a sheep ranch on the Beaver Creek and a horse and cattle ranch on the N. Fork of the Smoky river in 1880. The Book Committee started their project by getting the first legal name on every one of the 4,200 quarter sections in the county.

The set contains 768 family histories of these settlers as told by their descendents. They form the nucleus of the history, but interspersed are interesting sidelights, special stories, original newspaper accounts of historical events, and feature stories of colorful characters who contributed to the growth of the county seat. These stories in themselves reveal the fascinating background against which settlers went about their daily life.

Included are stories about Black Kettle, the magnificent stallion who roamed the area in the 1870's, the rain-makers, the climax to the battle for countyseat, ending in Goodland's victory in 1888, the coming--and nostalgic death-- of the Rock Island, and of getting a $5.00 ride with Charles Lindbergh when he included Goodland on his barnstorming trip.

This account covers 93 years of Sherman county history. The books are illustrated with beautifully reproduced early pictures and original art work.

Velma Kohler headed the Book Committee who prepared the material. Copies are available now but no more will be printed. Goodland will celebrate its centennial in 1987.

Supplement to Parke-Reitz and Erwin-Powers Families by Louis Powers Reitz and Elva Griffith Reitz. Published by the authors, 10654 Boswell Boulevard, Sun City AZ 85373. 1982

Instead of revising the 1977 edition of the family history, the authors published this supplementary booklet which contains new information gained during the intervening five years, missing dates, corrections, and charts of and material about additional branches of the families.

Some of the information came as a result of finding newspaper accounts of family activities, manuscripts and family scrapbooks, county histories, and the locating of other descendents engaged in genealogical research.

Readers are advised to read it only in conjunction with the original history. Page numbers correspond to the numbers in the first book.

Additional family charts and a picture section are included.

of which are in Kansas Kin. The move was made in the spring of 1981.

The early history of the Genealogical Society was researched from desk calendars of Grace Woldt, personal contact with those attending, clippings kept by several (Lurye Emig kept the previous mentioned clipping for 24 years), and later from Kansas Kin. The first two years there was no fee, no minutes kept, no officers in charge. Average attendance was probably about twelve. Even the name of the society and the name of the bulletin were suggested by several, but the decision on each name was unanimous.

There were many contributing factors to the growth of the Society, each encouraging the interest in Manhattan and over the entire state of Kansas. For more information concerning the Society details are given in Kansas Kin.
